REBELS MENACE COFFEE CENTER OF NICARAGUA

Citizens Ask Help; Marines on Alert.

By LOUIS ROSENTHAL.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Copyright, 1928, by The Chicago Tribune.)
MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 7.—Matagalpa, the most important coffee town in Nicaragua, tonight was threatened with a raid by Gen. Augusto Sandino's rebel cavalry, said to consist of more than 500 men. Gen. Sandino is reported to have his army camped near Jinotega. Authentic reports received here say he has looted several coffee estates nearby.

The United States marine headquarters will not divulge the troop movements, but state they are ample to take care of the situation and there is no reason for worry. However, the people of Matagalpa are far from reassured of their safety. At least three appeals were received here today asking for further protection. One of them appeals was sent by Alexander Potter, British vice consul at Matagalpa.

Matagalpa is ninety miles from Managua, and auto trucks can reach there in ten hours.

Companies of marines now occupy Jinotega, Matagalpa, and San Rafael del Norte.

British Consul, Alexander Potter, prominent Managua dentist, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, reports his coffee farm at Jinotega has been taken over by Gen. Sandino. The dentist's brother is being held for ransom of $1,000.

A report received at Managua late today states the coffee farm of Carlos Potter, brother of the British vice consul at Matagalpa, also now is held by bandits. The farm is northeast of Matagalpa, about fifteen miles distant.

Residents of Matagalpa who arrived here today say the road between Jinotega and Matagalpa is congested with people fleeing from Jinotega. All classes are represented, from the lowly peon with his bull cart, to wealthy hacendados abandoning their coffee estates to protect their families.

MUSSOLINI ENDS ALL DEMOCRACY IN ITALIAN RULE

New Plan O. K'd by Fascist Council.

By DAVID DARRAH.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Copyright, 1928, by The Chicago Tribune.)
ROME, Feb. 7.—Premier Benito Mussolini's grand Fascist council, consisting of twenty-five members, including all the cabinet ministers, undersecretaries and other distinguished Fascists, at a historic session tonight approved the final text of the drastic proposals for a new parliamentary chamber. The new scheme, as already announced, suppresses a democratic government in Italy, abolishes general elections and popular suffrage.

The exact form of the new scheme has not yet been announced. It is believed the text will not be published until it has been approved also by the council of ministers, which meets Feb. 20. It has been intimated, however, that the actual representation of the corporations and syndicates in the new chamber will not form a majority, but that the majority will be made up of appointments by Premier Mussolini himself without reference to the syndicates, since it is known Il Duce wants the new chamber to consist of experts rather than representatives of special interests.

A Second Senate.

Most of the advance information indicates that the new chamber will be merely a second kind of appointive senate. It means the definite suppression of all forms of party politics and political campaigns, and there will be no further popular meetings of party platforms apart from the Fascist program.

Italians Abroad to Get Seats.

While the discussions of new representations are going on, proposals to give several seats in the new chamber to representatives of the Italian emigrant colonies abroad also are revived. It is recalled that this scheme of having Fascists abroad represented in the chamber was given special stress in Argentina, where there are large Italian colonies. The Argentine newspaper, Prensa, however, opened violent opposition to the scheme, taking the same stand as the recent editorial in THE TRIBUNE commenting on the subject when the first news of the scheme was cabled from Rome.

Corriere d'Italia tonight prints a summary of the entire proposal for foreign representation in the new chamber, scoring THE TRIBUNE's editorial as poisonous in its interpretation.

HERE'S MUSSOLINI'S PLAN.

Premier Mussolini's grand council of the Fascist party signed the death warrant for democracy in Italy on Nov. 12, 1927, with a decree ordering the creation of a new parliamentary system on the basis of the representation of various categories of "productive organizations" (syndicalist corporations) of the country. In other words, only those that exerted productive efforts for the benefit of the nation were to have any voice in legislative affairs. The ground principles of the decree are:

1. A system of representation on the basis of the existence of only one political party, abolition of all elements opposed to Fascism, and recognition of the productive and economic organizations of the nation;
2. Fourteen large economic organizations, including all productive and laboring masses, to propose to the grand council a list of candidates;
3. The representatives finally chosen to represent any given section of the population, but to have entirely national interests;
4. The right to vote shall be given to citizens only "who, on the basis of a syndical contribution to the state, give evidence of being active elements in the life of the nation";
5. The voters to vote for the "embodiments," which each of the categories will have instead of individual candidates;
6. "Some method of representation to be worked out for organizations which are sanctioned but not properly Fascist" (Referring to Catholic organizations);
7. The number of deputies in the assembly to be reduced from 558 to 400.

A FEW MONTHS LATER IN WASHINGTON.

Society Votes in Palm Beach Elect Mayor

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 7.—Electioneering ladies whose names adorn the social register figuratively hitched their limousines to politics today and helped elect society's candidate for mayor in the most colorful election Palm Beach has known.

Maj. Barclay H. Warburton, former Philadelphia publisher, went into office with his ticket by a margin of more than 4 to 1. The women's activities in his behalf were so brisk that the largest vote on record was cast.

Smiles Win Votes.

Besides of society matrons and debutantes pressed their automobiles, chauffeurs and winning smiles into service for their candidate, working throughout the day at the polls and conveying voters to the ballot boxes.

A Great majority of winter residents who were eligible voted, but some women who had registered were not allowed to cast a ballot because they had not paid their poll tax and refused to claim the 55 year age limit which would have exempted them.

Miss Eleanor Chase, one of the more enthusiastic of the Warburton supporters, turned opposition into support by prevailing upon a councilman candidate on a ticket opposed to Maj. Warburton to hand out "vote for Warburton" cards. Others who were active during the day included Miss Marjorie Oelrichs of New York; Anita Loos, novelist, and her husband, John Emerson.

Hails Husband Off Links.

Just before the polls closed Miss Loos and Mrs. Arthur Hammerstein, the former Dorothy Dalton, sped out to the golf links and hailed in the latter's husband to cast a vote for their candidate.

GREAT AIRPLANE SHIP SQUEEZES THROUGH CANAL

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
ABOARD THE U. S. S. SARATOGA, Feb. 7.—America's mammoth airplane carrier, the Saratoga, safely docked at Balboa at 5:45 o'clock this evening after passing through the Panama canal from Gatun lake. It made Culebra cut quite easily, but required extra miles to pull it through Pedro Miguel and Miraflores locks. The British cruiser Hood and other large ships have passed through the usual four miles on each side, but the Saratoga needed two extra on the port side as a precaution against the heavy trade winds.

Capt. Harry E. Yarnell, fresh from Newport News war college, who commands the Saratoga, seemed relieved as the big ship entered the lower basin of Miraflores locks this morning at 11:09, where it remained until 4:35 this afternoon on account of the necessity to equalize the water to prevent a cross current outside. After awaiting the rising of the Pacific tide it slowly left the chamber, and with the assistance of four tugboats successfully docked at Balboa.

The difficulties, in addition to the 108 foot beam of the Saratoga, in passing through the 110 foot locks, included heavy winds to which the superstructure was susceptible, and a number of small outside pipes in the hull, which were bent. The flying deck, which is 167 feet wide, scraped the walls of the locks, damaging the paint work, but not the locks.

Courts Move Slowly.

The crime charged against Glasser was committed early in February, 1927, but not until June that year was he ordered held to the grand jury and indicted. It was only after Municipal Judge John Scharbo ordered an immediate hearing, after numerous continuances, that justice started to work against Glasser.

Chief Tiffany kept one of the weapons, assuring him that the other would be sufficient protection, even in Chicago.

Hill's Fiancee Testifies; It May Aid Alibi

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Ottawa, Ill., Feb. 7.—(Special.)—Alice Sawyer, black-eyed co-ed of James Millikin university, declared proudly from the witness stand today in Judge Joe A. Davis court that she was the fiancée of Harry Hill, 22 years old, who is on trial for the murder of his mother. The girl then told of numerous dates with the youth last August which, the defense claimed, furnished an alibi for the defendant.

Proves to Be Cool Witness.

The feminine audience murmured its admiration of Miss Sawyer's courtroom composure when she took the stand.

With Him on Aug. 4.

"On Aug. 4, 1927 I met Harry at 1:30 in the afternoon," Miss Sawyer testified. "My cousin, Harriet, was with me. We went to Pontiac, to go swimming in an open air pool there. We returned about 5:30 in the afternoon. The drive was made in Harry's Ford coupe."

And Again on Aug. 12.

"Harry met me at the hardware store, where I was working as a stenographer," she said. "That was about noon. He took me home from work. Again at 5 o'clock, he called for me and took me home. At 7:30 o'clock he met me for the third time and he accompanied me to the grocery store."

Explains Her Good Memory.

On cross-examination regarding the dates of her memory of these different dates, she declared: "When this terrible thing happened, was supposed to have happened, I figured all those dates out."

LUNDIN'S SCALP AGREED PRICE OF THIRD TERM

Mayor Makes Night Run to Capital.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Len Small is to have the support of Mayor Thompson for his third term race for governor of Illinois.

This announcement came out of Springfield last night after Mayor Thompson had made a breakfast night trip to Gov. Small's home filled with a determination to tell Small that if he didn't immediately fire Fred Lundin's organization jobholders he could expect defeat at the hands of the Chicago city hall organization.

Smith Also Is There.

Col. Frank L. Smith, who was elected to but not seated by the United States senate, sat with Thompson and Small in the conference.

Statements from the governor's mansion after the conference were that Thompson had agreed to support Small in a third term contest. Later the governor followed this with a written statement that indicated his willingness to transfer Fred Lundin's dictatorship of Cook county patronage to Thompson.

Small's Official Statement.

The governor's official statement was as follows: "In accordance with the announcement made at our conference last September at which Mayor Thompson and I agreed on four cardinal principles which we believe to be vital in the interest of the people, we first of all reiterate our adherence to those doctrines of public policy—namely: "America First."

"Farm Relief."

"Development of Inland Waterways."

"National Flood Control."

"Moreover, our minds have met on the desirability of giving Chicago home rule in the management and control of its traction and transportation problems and in giving that city full power to negotiate franchising to become law when approved by a majority vote of the people."

"Due to our entire agreement on fundamental principles of public policy and the friendship of many years that has existed between us, I have determined that in appointments and policies affecting Chicago I shall seek the advice of Mayor Thompson and shall be guided by his suggestions and counsel to the end that we may work in harmony in the solution of the above and other problems and in the appointment of proper officers on park boards and in other state functions relating to Chicago."

Mayor to Talk Today.

The mayor is to make his official report on whatever understandings he has with the governor at 3 o'clock this afternoon. He had announced prior to his going that "I will tell the organization then whom I shall support for governor."

While the mayor's crowd was worrying about Small, the followers of United States Senator Charles R. Deneen were mobilizing for a major attack on State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, Mayor Thompson's ally, and they decided upon Circuit Judge John A. Swanson as their candidate for state's attorney.

But it was the mayor's trip to Springfield that centered the mayor's interest. The fireworks began with his discovery that William H. Weber, once his lieutenant but now his enemy, had tried to interfere in his appointment.

The mayor protested to Gov. Small and Small instantly wired back. "I have ordered Wesley dismissed," the governor telegraphed the mayor. And Wesley lost his $5,000 salary as assistant forester.

But even as the mayor was reading that message, Gov. Small was submitting the name of another of Thompson's enemies, William F. Mulvihill, to the senate for confirmation as supervisor of waterway construction.

Defeat of Governor Seen.
The political forecast during the day had been that if Mayor Thompson and the Cook county Republican organization turned thumbs down on Gov. Small there would be a new occupant of the mansion at Springfield from and after Jan. 1, 1923. That is, without Cook county votes Small has no hope of renomination.

It was being said the governor would not run if Thompson refused to support him. Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom has announced himself as a candidate for governor. Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson is another avowed candidate, said to be expecting the nomination with Thompson support or with the support of the Small machine if Small drops out of the race.

There was some discussion of the possibility of a Cook county Republican winning the nomination if Small, Carlstrom and Emmerson, all downstate, stay in the primary contest. In the background across the demand of faction leaders for a Cook county candidate for governor. The probability that Charles V. Barrett, member of the board of review, who was elected with a plurality of 115,000, would enter the field with a big Cook county backing, animated much of the spleen against Small in the caucus. Bernard W. Snow also was mentioned as a possible candidate.

National Politics Involved.
Another and most important matter was at issue at the county meeting yesterday: the naming of delegates to the Republican national convention to select a Presidential candidate. Back of all the gubernatorial politics was the name of Frank O. Lowden. Small was regarded as willing to support delegates instructed for Lowden. Emmerson was considered as a running mate of Lowden. Carlstrom was said to be neutral.

Thompson is flatly opposed to Lowden. The mayor wanted as many of the Illinois delegates as he could get who would accept his leadership in the convention—delegates, as he termed them, pledged to America first.

State's Attorney Crowe, Galpin and the other local leaders were less interested in national politics than Thompson, but the word of Thompson was considered as final and binding. Paramount, however, in the consideration of county Republican leaders was the question of jobs, a pay roll brigade that could be mustered on election days.

So Thompson went to Springfield with the advice of his political friends and associates to compel the governor to fire John Dill Robertson and the other Lundin men, or fight his renomination.

Crowe Is Interested.
State's Attorney Crowe was vitally interested in the proceedings. With the powerful organization headed by Galpin combing the county for votes for him, he has little to fear of being defeated for renomination, according to his followers. But with Gov. Len Small tied to his neck as a running mate next November he would have reason to be worried, the same friends said.

But at a caucus of Denen leaders last night there was not the same belief Crowe would have it all his own way in the primary. They considered Judge Swanson as an exceptionally strong opponent for Crowe and they thought they also strengthened the ticket in the making by selecting John C. Gordon, owner of four northwest side moving picture shows and a nephew by marriage of the Rev. Francis Gordon, as the Denen candidate for coroner. Father Gordon is regarded as a political leader of the Poles.

It was announced also after Denen caucus that they would put an entire

M'ANDREW FOES, AFTER FIVE MONTHS, GO BACK TO ORIGINAL CHARGES

Attorneys for the board of education yesterday took up for the first time charges of insubordination lodged about five months ago against William McAndrew, suspended superintendent of schools. Since then at many sessions he has been on trial before the school board.

The original charges were made on Aug. 29. A month later the charges of pro-British plots were appended. Since that time the attorneys have dealt with those later charges and many witnesses have given their opinions on those charges.

McAndrew's refusal to accept the opinion of the board's attorney in regard to the status of teacher-clerks and his attempt to balk the effort to replace 253 teachers with civil service employees were reviewed by Attorney James Todd in yesterday's session. Mr. Todd read Mr. McAndrew's testimony defending the teachers in the suit brought against the board of education on Aug. 17 before Master in Chancery Fred Bernstein. It was Mr. McAndrew's refusal to accept the opinion of the board's attorney in that case that brought his suspension on the insubordination charges.

Yesterday marked the seventeenth session of the trial, and Mr. Todd indicated that two more sessions would be required to conclude the case against Mr. McAndrew. About an hour and a half will be sufficient for the presentation of the defense, Angus Roy Shannon and Francis K. Busch, attorneys for Mr. McAndrew, asserted. The hearing was continued until Friday.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 7.—(Special.)—After a conference late this afternoon Gov. Len Small and leaders of both houses of the general assembly determined to go ahead with the special session but to try to conclude its work next week.

As the reconvening members gathered they found themselves facing a situation far different from that of ten days ago, when they recessed. The chief cause for their special meeting, the apparent necessity for a new primary act, had been eliminated by a decision of the Supreme court upholding the Schroeder law.

In addition the same court today threw out the latest of the Fergus reapportionment cases, which, since it sought to force handling of legislative nominating petitions on the 1882 basis, might have made serious trouble for the primary of April 16.

With these two matters out of the way Small and the leaders of both the senate and the house, who were called to his office, took the position that was to settle on a practical plan of hurrying up the passage of bills still on the calendars that are considered necessary or desirable.

There are several matters included in the program of possible legislation. Those deemed most important are the straightening out of tax rate and bonding power matters which were tangled up by Chicago's revenue program in the regular session and the provision of a registration for Chicago which the Springfield, Ill., Feb. 7.—(Special.)—After a conference late this afternoon Gov. Len Small and leaders of both houses of the general assembly determined to go ahead with the special session but to try to conclude its work next week.

As the reconvening members gathered they found themselves facing a situation far different from that of ten days ago, when they recessed. The chief cause for their special meeting, the apparent necessity for a new primary act, had been eliminated by a decision of the Supreme court upholding the Schroeder law.

In addition the same court today threw out the latest of the Fergus reapportionment cases, which, since it sought to force handling of legislative nominating petitions on the 1882 basis, might have made serious trouble for the primary of April 16.

With these two matters out of the way Small and the leaders of both the senate and the house, who were called to his office, took the position that was to settle on a practical plan of hurrying up the passage of bills still on the calendars that are considered necessary or desirable.

There are several matters included in the program of possible legislation. Those deemed most important are the straightening out of tax rate and bonding power matters which were tangled up by Chicago's revenue program in the regular session and the provision of a registration for Chicago which the

PAN-AMERICANS ADOPT AIR PACT TO GUARD CANAL

Back U. S. Stand on Big Trade Artery.

HAVANA, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The Panama canal was the subject of greatest international interest in the Pan-American conference proceedings today. It came before the delegates at the meeting of the committee on communications and was brought to the fore by Ambassador Henry P. Fletcher of the American delegation, who declared the greatest interest of the United States lay in the defense of this most important artery of maritime communication.

The projected international commercial aviation convention was adopted unanimously by the committee after Ambassador Fletcher's assertion that the United States made no secret of its desire to protect the canal. This must be kept open to the world's shipping, therefore the United States was unable to agree to any convention which might jeopardize the safety of the canal.

The American delegate referred to a clause of article 29 of the amended convention permitting any contracting state to enter into a special agreement with any other state, provided such agreement does not affect the rights and obligations defined by the general convention. The convention does not affect the rights and obligations established by treaties already existing.

Chile Backs Stand of U. S.
The Chilean delegate, Carlos Silva Vidossola, in commenting the American attitude, said, "We have all been thinking of Panama throughout these discussions, we have been flying over the real issue, but at last we are down to earth. The neutrality and defense of the Panama canal must not be interfered with."

He described Chile's special economic interest in maintaining free traffic through the canal, which was vital to commerce between South America and the rest of the world. Maritime traffic, he contended, was the most important world communication; commercial aviation still was in an experimental stage and would be confined to the carriage of mail for some years to come. For this reason, he claimed, it was better to leave that for future consideration.

The Peruvian representative, Luis de Negri, endorsed the sentiments of Ambassador Fletcher and Señor Vidossola. He believed the time was ripe for an aviation convention, with full protection for maritime strategic points. The canal, he said, was a most important factor in the interests of Peru's commerce.

Colombia Recommends Pact.
Enrique Olaya, Colombia, described the scope already attained by Colombia's commercial aviation and outlined future projects of an international character. Hence, he argued, it was necessary that aviation should not be impeded by prejudicial private agreements between countries. He voiced approval of the spirit of the convention and recommended its adoption and that copies be sent to all

DEPOSITORS STOP RUN ON MIAMI BANKS; HUNT MAN WHO STARTED IT

Miami, Fla., Feb. 7.—(AP)—Confidence in Miami banks apparently was restored today following a flurry of excitement which led to the temporary closing yesterday of three of the city's financial institutions. The run was attributed to circulation of anonymous letters.

Runs which began on several of the larger banks at noon yesterday started to subside during the forenoon today and then died out altogether. By noon the waiting lines of depositors seeking to withdraw their funds had disappeared, and several million dollars brought from the federal reserve branch bank at Jacksonville to meet possible continued heavy withdrawals were not needed.

Reports from several of the affected banks at the close of business noted increases in deposits. All three of the banks that were closed temporarily announced that plans were in progress for early reopening, with State Comptroller Ernest Amos relaying that none would have been forced to suspend had it not been for the anonymous letter, the writer of which still is sought by the police.

countries of the world, accompanied by a draft of the minutes of the session, which would be proof to the world of the spirit of cooperation and equity which prompted its adoption in the Pan-American conference.

Señor Olaya recognized the necessity for defense of the Panama canal. He believed maritime and air traffic could be coordinated without prejudice either to the United States or to Panama's special interests in the canal.

Ricardo Alfaro, in behalf of Panama, declared his country had the same interest as the United States in the defense of the canal, which, he added, "is Panamanian territory." In his opinion, eventually it will be possible to combine the regulations governing air and ocean traffic. But meantime the canal defense must be insured.

Approve Tri-Continental Highway.
A Peruvian motion presented to the Pan-American congress with the enthusiastic support of the United States urging construction of a tri-continental highway to stretch the length of the three Americas, obtained unanimous approval at a plenary session of the conference today.

A report signed by Dr. Jesus Salazar of Peru and by Ambassador Fletcher emphasized that the "international binding" which the Pan-American congress is promoting necessitates that "American states, simultaneously with the development of their local roads, undertake joint efforts toward the construction of a continental highway of such nature as to place them all in mutual communication."

The motion approved today calls upon the Pan-American highway conference, which is to meet in Rio Janeiro next July, to take appropriate steps for the execution of such a project.

MEXICAN ARMY IN 2 BATTLES WITH REBELS; MANY DIE

Insurgents Blast Rail Line and Train.

BY JOHN CORNYN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 7.—For the second time within a week rebels held up train on the Guadalajara-Manzanillo line and fought a hand to hand fight with train guards after having placed dynamite on the track and having blown a hole through the car carrying the military train guard. In the explosion five soldiers were seriously wounded. The guards fought the rebels for an hour and a half when the arrival of airplanes from Colima drove off the insurgents. Fourteen rebels were killed in the fight, which occurred on Sunday, according to belated dispatches. It is believed several train guards were killed.

Rebels cut the railway line yesterday between Guadalajara and Colima. Near La Pionera, in the highlands of the state of Jalisco yesterday, rebels appeared in strong numbers and engaged in a battle with federal forces which lasted for several hours. The arrival of airplanes shortly before sundown caused the rebels to retreat into the hills, leaving five prisoners in the hands of the federal forces. These were executed on the battle field. Gen. Escalante, commander of the federal forces, was seriously wounded.

Rebels Invade Town.
A strong force of rebels which entered Salamanca in the state of Guanajuato, two days ago, tore up the Mexican Central track for three miles, cut telegraph and telephone poles, and isolated the city. Train service between Mexico City and the border is still disrupted because of the torn up track. The rebels apparently are moving in considerable force into the state of Guanajuato and airplanes, recently brought from the United States, have been sent there to combat them. It was reported this morning that a heavy cavalry force in pursuit of the rebels had driven them out of Salamanca. Forces from Irapuato, headed by the state commander of federal troops, Gen. Jaime Carrillo, moved yesterday into the territory occupied by rebels, accompanied by airplanes, mountain cannon and cavalry.

Gen. Aleman Vasquez, commander of the troops in Salamanca, was wounded in the fight with the rebels.

Rebels from Town.

Rebels cut telegraph and telephone connections at two points on the national line between Maricaca and Escondido, and Grigra and La Noria in the state of Queretaro, while other rebels attacked Colon, in the same state, snacking it. Other bands of rebels appeared in Esperanza, Ajuchitan, El Blanco and Potrero. All churches in Queretaro, it is reported, have been closed by military orders as centers of revolutionary propaganda. San Miguel de Allende also was without communication with the outside world when rebels cut telephone and telegraph wires. Federal forces moved into the town and the rebels took to the hills.

For the last two days the movement of federal troops westward has occupied all the railway transportation facilities to the exclusion of the public. Heavy detachments of troops have been sent to guard the railways over which the troops are moving through the states of Guanajuato and Queretaro. The rebel movement seems to have become more concerted and to be spreading.

More Catholics have been arrested here and in many towns throughout the republic. The governor of the state of Chiapas issued a decree yesterday limiting the number of priests of any one religion to twenty-five for the state, which has more than 250,000 inhabitants.

REDGE STOCK SOARS ON PROFIT IN PUBLIC WORK

Millions Added to Value in Few Months.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company has had a great increase in the value of its stock during recent months. It seems to be in great favor with a certain class of investors. The company was organized in 1895. C. Sullivan and John P. Hopkins, Democratic leaders, were on its directors for a number of years. Its business is making river and harbor improvements. It builds bridges for the city, dredges the rivers for the navy district, builds islands for the park board, and fills in submerged land for the Lincoln park board. Its letterhead gives its business as "foundations, bridges, piers, lighthouses, tunnels, pneumatic and submarine work." It not only operates in Chicago but also on the great lakes and on the north Atlantic coast.

Heavy Increase in Year.

The dock company's business during the last year has apparently been highly remunerative, although there are some who say a business concern cannot make money dealing with political bodies. A large part of this corporation's work is for governmental agencies. Since Jan. 1, 1927, its stock has shot upward from a low point of $140 a share to a high point yesterday of $224.25 a share, closing at $224.25. The stock last week reached $225 and closed at that price Monday.

At $140 the total stock of the company has an aggregate value of $9,800,000. At $225 a share it would be worth $22,425,875—a difference of $12,625,875. This $22,425,875 is above the par value of the stock by $15,525,375. In 1918 when no dividends were paid the stock went as low as $39.50 a share. At that price the total value of 65,000 shares would be $2,567,500. Between that point and $225 a share giving the stock an indicated value of $22,425,875—is a long high jump of $19,758,375. Such an accomplishment is cause for comment in financial circles.

Of course in such a rise some persons must have made large amounts of money. In the last 14 months 64,747 shares have been sold and bought. The total number outstanding is 68,015. Those purchasers shared in the profits between $140 and $225 a share, representing an increased value for all shares of $12,625,875.

The Great Lakes company paid no dividends in the years of 1918 and 1919. But even counting in those red figure years it has averaged cash dividends of 10.5 per cent annually since it was organized in 1895. In addition it has paid three stock dividends; one of 20 per cent in 1911, another of 10 per cent in 1912 and a third of 20 per cent in 1917. Shareholders over that period got 53 shares where previous to 1911 they had had only 100 shares. So, those who held on are now sitting pretty.

About $34 a share is the estimated earnings for last year. That was the statement of H. C. Wild, chairman of the board of directors on Nov. 19 last. The net income of the company as printed in financial publications, for the last few years is as follows:

Year.	Net Income.	Percent.
1923	$1,200,000	18.75
1924	1,900,000	27.91
1925	1,527,044	23.13
1926	1,122,418	16.84
1927	2,250,000	34.60

Forecast by Mr. Wild.
The effect of Mr. Wild's circular letter to the stockholders was to boost the price of the stock. In the five days before the letter was sent out 4,574 shares of the stock were sold. Five days before the letter the high price of the stock was $225 a share, while last week and last Monday it sold for $225—a jump of 100 points. The day the Wild letter was sent out the Great Lakes stock sold for $225.75, while yesterday it touched $230 on a turnover of 710 shares, an advance of 100 points.

Market Records Cited.

It is often said that a stock is worth 10 times its earnings. But that rough rule has not been adapted closely on the Great Lakes stock heretofore. In 1922, while paying eight per cent dividend, the net earnings were 18.75 per cent—and according to the rule the stock should have sold for $187.5 a share—but it actually sold that year between $75 and $94.25 a share.

In each of the next four years the company paid eight per cent regular dividend and two per cent extra. In 1924 the stock varied between $75.50 to $95.50 a share. In 1925 its range was between $94.87 to $195 a share. In 1926 the gap was between $122 and $171 a share, although the net earnings in that year and also 1925 were smaller than in 1924. Apparently, therefore, the price of the stock has not followed the earnings closely. In 1927 the stock sold between $140 a share and $275.50 a share and this year to date the low has been $245 and the high $230 a share.

It has been announced there has been paid or declared this year cash dividends of $12 a share. Part of this $2 is the regularly quarterly dividend, and there were two extras of $2 and $8. This start indicates that with three more regular dividends of $2 each, $18 a share, at least, will be paid this year.

History Repeats Itself.

The company appears to be going as strong as it was in the five or six years after its organization in 1895, when among its directors were powerful and influential politicians. In 1907 the company paid 10 per cent. In 1908 it was 15 per cent. In 1909 it was 22 1/2 per cent. In 1911 it was 23 1/2 per cent and 20 per cent in stock and the next year it was 10 per cent in stock.

Regarding the present conditions, Chairman Wild wrote the stockholders Nov. 19 last: "The outlook for work in its line in all territories covered by your company... seems as good, if not better, than at any time in its history."

Just before Dec. 1, 1927, the stock hopped up 34 points within a week. Last week it jumped 24 points in one day. The cause of the last abrupt increase was explained in the financial columns as "the result of pool activity

$5,000 FOR ROBBERS, DEAD OR ALIVE, IS CHICAGO BANK OFFER

A reward of $5,000 "dead or alive" for the "time lock" bandits, who, on Dec. 31, robbed the Ravenswood National bank of $30,000, was posted last night by the Chicago Federation of the Illinois Bankers' association. Plans to offer a permanent reward of $5,000 for the capture or killing of bank robbers anywhere in the state were also discussed. Announcement of the reward was made at a dinner in the Hotel La Salle.

"Frequently," said Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National bank, "juries appear weak kneed when a bank bandit is the defendant, and drastic measures are needed to protect our banks from pillage. I don't know how the mind of a criminal works, but I believe most any of them can understand when we talk in terms of the hot end of a six shooter or a cash price."

J. M. Appel of Highland Park, president of the state association, and Paul H. Davis, vice president of the Chicago Stock Exchange, were other speakers. Raymond Kimball of the Kimball State bank was chairman.

In the turnover of 730 shares, coupled with reports that the company will probably be the successful bidder for the most important contracts in the straightening of the Chicago river.

But the plans and specification on the river straightening job have not been made public yet. It has been represented repeatedly by city engineers that this job is a simple task from an engineering point of view and it has been predicted that the city will have more bidders than usual. The rumor has been around for some time that the Great Lakes has an inside track on this work, but the basis for the report has not been disclosed.

What the Gossip Is.

No one has attempted to say definitely who are the persons operating the pool, but the brokerage office through which they deal is a matter of common report. One politician and some friends are said to be interested in the stock boosting campaign, but that is mere rumor. There was considerable activity in the stock just prior to the Wild announcement on Nov. 19. The boys who were in on the ground floor could have bought for 195 a share and sold yesterday at $230, a profit of $134 a share.

RELEASE OF SON OF POLICEWOMAN STARTS INQUIRIES

A double investigation of the discharge of John O'Connell, 28 year old son of Policewoman Mary O'Connell of the Des Plaines street station, by Judge Francis Allegretti in the Boys' court on Monday, was under way yesterday. O'Connell was acquitted by the judge of a robbery charge brought by Samuel Berliner, clothing merchant at 2230 West Madison street.

Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court announced that he would ask Judge Allegretti for a report and in addition would make an independent inquiry into the facts involved in the robbery charges. First Assistant State's Attorney George E. Gorman called on his assistant, Louis A. Pinderaki, prosecutor in Judge Allegretti's court, for an explanation.

The judge ordered the discharge of O'Connell after he had branded as "preposterous" the story of Berliner that he was robbed at 8 o'clock at night in his store at the busy corner of Kedzie and Madison streets without any one witnessing the crime.

Berliner caused O'Connell's arrest last Friday when he saw him for the first time, he says, since Dec. 12, the day of the robbery. According to the merchant, O'Connell had a companion in the robbery, which netted $117 and some silk shirts. This second man was never found.

It was intimated that Berliner was seeking insurance, but this was emphatically denied by him and disapproved by Charles H. Pichert of the National Surety company. The records of the company show that the claim was paid on Jan. 19, almost a month before O'Connell's arrest and identification. "I felt I was doing my duty," said Berliner yesterday. "A man who said he was a court representative came around to my store and told me I had better be careful or I would find myself in trouble for perjury. He also said the boy's mother would probably sue me on behalf of the boy."

CONSTIPATION CAUSES MANY A SLOW-UP

But you can protect yourself

No man can do justice to his job—no woman can remain vivacious and happy—with constipation daily undermining health and strength. Aching heads, painful muscles, nervousness, blemished cheeks—these are just little things that constipation brings on. In the end, it causes more than forty dreadful diseases.

Begin now combating constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve it. More—to prevent it. Just eat two tablespoons daily—chronic cases, every meal. Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN because it is 100% bran—100% effective.

Healthful and delicious with milk or cream, or with fruit or honey added. Sprinkle into soups. Recipes on package. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

KING STAGES HIS ANNUAL SHOW OF REGAL SPLENDOR

Dons Crown and Ermine to Open Parliament.

BY PAUL SHINKMAN.
(Chicago Tribune Service.)
(Copyright, 1928, By the New York Times.)

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Arrived in his regal robes of velvet and ermine, with a flashing jeweled crown on his head, King George stood before his throne, facing a resplendent house of peers and the commoners at high noon today. In accordance with the ancient ceremony dating from King John, he formally opened parliament with an address that concluded, "I pray the blessing of Almighty God may rest upon your labors."

The historic Gothic hall once more presented the most magnificent spectacle of the empire's state calendar when lords and their ladies, the former in flaming crimson and ermine robes and the latter in rich evening dress, flashing with staggering displays of jewels, diamonds and tiaras assembled for the impressive event.

On one side of the crimson dais supporting gold throne was the diplomatic box, filled with picturesque uniforms, quantities of gold braid and oriental fexes. Ambassador Alanson B. Houghton was conspicuous in the front row in his somber black evening clothes.

Queen III: Stays at Palace.
The prince of Wales, the first state arrival, wore the flowing scarlet robes. He took his place on the small throne to the right of King George, pleasantly surveyed the crowd, and then began impatiently to beat time with his feet until the sudden hush that fell as the lights were dimmed as the royal escort conducted the king to the throne, the lights gradually were turned up, revealing the full splendor of the dazzling assemblage.

For the first time during King George's reign Queen Mary did not occupy the throne beside the king, due to indisposition. She watched the royal procession from the palace windows.

There was a moment of traditional silence following the sovereign's arrival, while the commoners' representatives were admitted to the back of the hall; then the king was handed his speech, which he read in a firm, clear voice.

The message was notable for its omissions, the monarch merely touching on national and international questions, including the approaching visit of the ameer of Afghanistan, the improved situation in China, which still is serious, however, encouraging signs of industry, and increased agricultural credits, but no mention of leading parliamentary questions of the day.

Considers Pact with U. S.
Referring to the draft of the new arbitration treaty communicated by the United States Dec. 25 to replace the 1925 treaty, the king declared, "the terms of the new draft are being carefully and sympathetically studied by the government of Great Britain and will be considered through communication with my government and dominions."

While the fifteen minute ceremony was proceeding thousands waited outside, lining the royal route, in order to see the king return to the palace in his coach of gold and glass, escorted by a brilliant cavalcade of guards.

A single variation of the ancient ceremony, in addition to the queen's absence, was the sudden dash of a girl suffragist past the Buckingham palace police with a letter asking the king to recommend votes for women who have reached the age of 21, as now granted to men. Miss Conita Trotter, who is the daughter of the chief justice of the high court of Madras, had already delivered a similar letter to Prime Minister Baldwin in Downing street, but was stopped at the palace.

"Flappers" to Get Vote.
The militant suffrage demonstration was followed in the house of commons by the announcement that the government will push forward the "flappers vote" bill. The Labor party will support it, so it is certain of passage. At present, only women who have reached the age of 30 are entitled to vote.

Prime Minister Baldwin announced that Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain would deal with the question of the American treaty in the house on Wednesday.
"It is a difficult and technical subject," he declared.

In the subsequent debate on the king's address the irrepressible Laborite, David Kirkwood, got in the limelight.

"King's Speech Farrel of Lies."

"The speech from the throne was a parcel of lies," he declared, denying that foreign relations were friendly.

Regarding the reference to America, Mr. Kirkwood insisted that if the government wanted peace with America it was the easiest thing in the world. There are no barriers between Canada and America, he went on to say, adding that they have agreed not to do anything to protect themselves against one another. The same could be done regarding England, he added.

The whole trouble between England and America at the Opera party was not because of the culture of guns or the size of cruisers; it was because America demanded that England be placed on an equal footing with America," he said.

Later Mr. Kirkwood heatedly attacked the government's policy, declaring the government was a "government of fools and knaves"—an expression which the deputy speaker insisted on him withdrawing.

Teller, Indicted in Bank Robbery, Freed by Court

Harold N. Smith, former paying teller at the Eastern State bank of Ford Park, who was indicted for embezzlement last fall following the robbery of the bank, was acquitted yesterday by Chief Justice William V. Rockland of the Criminal court. His attorney, Frank Cantwell, announced he would start two suits for $50,000 each in behalf of his client for malicious prosecution.

Col. Roosevelt Here; Speaking Tour Tires Him

Returning from a nine day speaking tour through the western states, Col. Theodore Roosevelt came into Chicago yesterday to visit James Simpson, to browse about in the Field museum with his brother, Kermit, to see friends, to forget politics.

"I'm simply talked out," Col.

Roosevelt said. "I've been barnstorming all through the west; I haven't a thing to say except that, although there are many cross-currents of political feeling just now I am absolutely confident of a Republican victory in the fall."

Most of the afternoon the Roosevelts—Kermit and Theodore—spent in the museum, surveying the work being done on the exhibits of the crisis and the which they bagged two years ago on their Asian expedition.

This Great Healing Oil Must Banish Eczema and Skin Trouble

Or Your Money Back. That's the Plan on Which Emerald Oil Is Sold by All Good Druggists.

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well. You've probably been, like a lot of other people, convinced that the only thing to use was an ointment or salve (some of them are very good) but in the big majority of cases these sticky salves simply clog the pores and the condition primarily remains the same.

Go to any good druggist today and get an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil. The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you.

International Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y.

that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your skin troubles will be a thing of the past.

Don't expect a single bottle to do it all at once but one bottle we know will show you beyond all question that you have at last discovered one way to restore your skin to perfect health.

Remember that Moore's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue and that it must give complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded. At all Walgreen and Economical Drug Stores.

THREATEN TO KILL JUDGE AND JURY IN HICKMAN CASE

Notes Demand Death for Girl's Slayer.

BY GEORGE SHAFER.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 7.—(Special.)—Police and sheriff's office conferred themselves alarmed tonight at reports of a succession of death threats against the Hickman case jury, judge, and prosecutor.
Three new threats reached the authorities today. One threatened to blow up the entire jury if a death verdict is not returned against Hickman in his trial for the slaying of Marion Parker. A new guard of twenty men was thrown around Judge J. J. Trabucco's courtroom, and the guard for the jurors, who are locked up nightly, was doubled.
District Attorney Asa Keyes received a note threatening to kill him and blow up his house. A detail of officers were assigned to guard him.
Says He Feigns Insanity.
The last of the prosecution allegations, Dr. Edward Huntington Williams, today said William Edward Hickman was sane at the time he kidnaped and killed Marion Parker and is sane now.
His flat statement was that "Hickman is a sane boy, 19 years old, who put up a pretty bun exhibition of feigned insanity, and who is mentally and legally responsible for his acts."
The doctor, who spent years at Matteawan, informed the court that part of his job in the New York prison service had been to observe cases of malingering among insanity patients.
"One gets so that he can tell a sane man from among the insane, and the insane person out of a group of normal citizens without any loss of time," Dr. Williams said.

When the witness went to the county jail to examine Hickman last Jan. 10, he suspected that Hickman might be suffering from some bodily gland deficiency. He was prepared to remove Hickman to a hospital for observation, but after studying him for 43 minutes he knew "Hickman was a sane youth, trying to appear insane in a clumsy way. I knew he was not a dementia praecox case, and there was no further need for me to examine him or observe him."

Chief Defense Counsel Jerome Walsh tried to extract a definition from Dr. Williams of "constitutional psychopathic inferiority." This was a term applied to Hickman by Dr. Williams' predecessor in the witness box, Dr.

Thomas Orblson, another prosecution alienist.

Tendency to Go Crazy.
"In my language," Dr. Williams testified, "that means an inherited mental weakness or instability, amounting to a tendency to go crazy under stress." He added that Hickman did not come under such classification.

Walsh questioned the amount of time—43 minutes—that Dr. Williams divided between observing Hickman's mentality and examining him physically.
Q—Isn't that a pretty short space of time to make up your mind on such a question? A—Forty-three minutes may be a long time for a good alienist to spend on sitting up a case. I have never heard of a case where a good alienist had to change his mind after half an hour in sitting up a patient. Walsh questioned the witness in regard to a seeming conflict between his testimony and a book he wrote some time ago.

Q—Don't you stand by your own book? Didn't you write it for the benefit of mankind, or young medical students?
A—For the benefit of mankind? O. no. For the financial benefit of the writer.

Walsh Hunt, Edward Hickman's 16 year old accomplice in one killing, testified that Hickman always manifested every evidence of sanity while they were together.

WATSON F. BLAIR, EARLY CHICAGO RESIDENT, DIES

Watson F. Blair, 74 years old, retired Chicago capitalist, died yesterday at his home in Greenwich, Conn. Mr. Blair had been in poor health for more than a year. In January, 1927, he was operated on in a New York hospital, but was believed to have recovered. Little more than a week ago he became ill of bronchial pneumonia. That was the direct cause of death.

At the bedside were Mrs. Blair, Wolcott Blair, only surviving son of the couple, and Mrs. Wolcott Blair.

The body will be brought to Chicago, arriving at 3 p. m. today. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow at St. James Episcopal church.

Cass and Huron streets. Burial in Greenwood cemetery will be private. Mr. Blair was born at Michigan City, Ind., on Jan. 29, 1854. He was the son of Chauncey Buckley Blair, who founded the old Merchants National bank here, and Caroline C. De Graff Blair. He entered Chicago's business activities, after being graduated from Williston seminary in Massachusetts, as a member of the packing firm of Culbertson, Blair & Co.

In 1877 he left that firm and operated the grain brokerage concern of Blair & Co. He ceased active management of this business in 1890, but remained a director in the bank his father had founded. When the bank became the Illinois Merchants Trust company he remained on the board for several years.

Mr. Blair was foreman of the grand jury that inquired into the Iroquois theater fire, in which 575 persons died. He was vice president and chairman of the directors of the Field Museum of Natural History, a member of the Chicago Orchestra association, and a governing member of the Art Institute. He also was vice president of the Children's Memorial hospital.

Besides the widow, Mrs. Alice Keep

Blair, to whom he was married in 1883, Mr. Blair is survived only by the one son. Another son, Watson Keep Blair, died at Miami in 1924 at the age of 34. He had served in the navy during the world war.

Mr. Blair was a member of many clubs. His old home was at 672 Rush street, but his latest Chicago residence was at 209 Lake Shore drive. He was a brother of Henry A. Blair and of Mrs. John J. Borland.

Dr. Hagenow Loses License; Two Others Given Notice

The medical committee of the Illinois department of registration and education has recommended to Director A. M. Shelton the revocation of the licenses of three physicians.

One is Dr. Lucy Hagenow, who was recently found guilty of murder by abortion and sentenced to fourteen years in the penitentiary. The others are Ezra Hart and William Blanchard, who were found guilty in federal court of violating the narcotic laws. Mr. Shelton declared Dr. Hagenow's license revoked at once, while the others were given a twenty day notice.

CELESTE MILLER, NOTED TRAVELER, IS DEAD AT 82

Miss Celeste J. Miller, known as the world's foremost globe trotter, died suddenly on Monday in Phoenix, Ariz. She was 82 years old and had circled the globe 32 times, having returned to Chicago from the last trip in the spring of 1927.

Miss Miller had traveled constantly since 1874. According to her friends, there was scarcely a nook of the world she did not know, scarcely a hamlet, however small, she had not visited. What permanent home she had was established in Chicago at the Auditorium hotel, but she never liked to stay long in one place.

Born on Oct. 15, 1845, near Princeton, Ill., she was the daughter of Henry F. Miller, pioneer Illinois settler, who amassed a fortune in real estate.

Other women had traveled around the world, but Miss Miller was the first to start without escort and to go everywhere. It was her boast, friends said, that she could care for herself in any situation or climate. Frequently caring for herself involved the use of force. Of late years she had carried a stout cane and told how once in Manila she had used it on two highwaymen. Another time in the Moroccan desert, it was recalled, she had to beat a crowd of natives into submission when they became drunk.

In her travels Miss Miller particularly prided herself on the number of out of the way places she visited. "I have been compelled to sleep with sheep, chickens, goats, geese, donkeys, horses and cows because of lack of hotel accommodations," she once said. The body is being sent from Phoenix to Princeton for burial on Feb. 9.

GAS VICTIM IS REVIVED.
Timothy Hahnen, 22, of 3344 North La Moine avenue, was revived by an inhalator Sunday afternoon after he had been overcome by sewer gas while working in a manhole at Cortland street and Crawford avenue.

IF YOU have a dining room that needs some help in the matter of furniture you'll find a visit to this store during our sale very worth while.

The pieces shown here represent just one of the many beautiful dining room groups to be seen here.

These pieces are reproductions of the work of Duncan Phyfe, who is the only American for whom a furniture period is named. He came to Albany, N. Y., from Scotland and started making furniture in 1790. A great deal of his work shows the influence of Adam, Hepplewhite and Sheraton, all famous furniture designers in England.

Some of the pieces shown here are accurate copies of originals by Duncan Phyfe, that are in the Metropolitan Museum in New York.

We were very fortunate in securing a few of these suites at a material discount. We are offering them during this sale for considerably less than regular prices.

The list below shows some of the choice bargains to be found here. There is no duplicate for any item in this list.

COME TO ACT, BUT STAY TO TALK ON NEW CAR BILLS

Aldermen to Try Again at Friday Session.

Another meeting on local transportation was held yesterday. Representatives of the companies insisted they were ready to proceed. The aldermen, however, were not so sure. But there was one thing certain: the aldermen were going to get in bad, and so are the companies. The same can be said for the governor. I have talked with his close friend, Representative Thomas Curran, and the governor has a funny idea that an ordinance was submitted before the companies did any criticizing.

Ald. Joseph B. McDonough, chairman of the council transportation committee, was irritated.

"A bunch of hoodlums could have gotten those bills out in two weeks," he shouted at Mr. Brown.

Questions Sincerely.

"But do the companies want a settlement?" asked Ald. T. J. Bowler.

"Yes," said McDonough, "but there's a bigger in the woodpile. I'm sick and tired of being kicked around."

"These legal lights and we ordinary chumps are going to sit around here until our whiskers grow down to our knees," said Ald. Toman. "It is all a game of passing the buck. The companies would not let us have home rule in 1918."

"We are willing to go along with any home rule you can get," interrupted Patrick J. Lucey, attorney for the elevated lines.

"You didn't then," retorted Toman. "Some one did go down with a black bag."

Ald. Frankhauser said that "the transportation question has been in a state of coma for some time."

"I can't understand why the companies will not actively cooperate," said McDonough. "This committee is

James W. Breen arrived 25 minutes late. He said that he had sent the committee a written analysis. He also said that he did not have any of the bills ready but would have one on Friday—the one relating to consolidation of the surface and elevated lines. Ald. E. I. Frankhauser, chairman of the aldermanic drafting committee, said that no written analysis had been received and explained that the document to which Mr. Breen referred was submitted before the companies did any criticizing.

Ald. Joseph B. McDonough, chairman of the council transportation committee, was irritated.

fair and reasonable. It appreciates that the companies must have a franchise upon which they can raise money for improvements and extensions. ## WILLIE DRUGGAN ASKS 19TH DELAY DOESN'T GET IT

Dauntless Willie Druggan, who takes his trials on the installment plan, started yesterday on the nineteenth lap of his race to escape conviction on a charge of assault and battery with a deadly weapon. The weapon was a baseball bat, the assault was on July 14, 1927, and the victim was Martin Mahoney, city license inspector, who spent seven weeks in bed following the attack.

Despite the already astonishing record of eighteen continuances of the case, James J. McDermott, attorney for the defense, asked for another of Judge Daniel P. Trude when court convened yesterday. An important witness, George Steiner, is missing, he explained. But Judge Trude shook his head, even before the explosive objection of Assistant State's Attorney George Carmichael had been entered.

Both Misses Star Witnesses.

The disappearance of Steiner leaves both the prosecution and the defense minus their most important witnesses.

Fred Giovannetti, city license inspector, who witnessed the assault upon Mahoney, vanished after testifying in an earlier trial, wherein the jury disagreed on a verdict.

Steiner was relied upon by the defense to prove the alibi claimed by Druggan, who asserts he is the victim of mistaken identity.

So examination of prospective jurors got under way. Man after man was called, questioned, and examined when he admitted having read of the case and of having formed impressions and prejudices that might sway his judgment. It was nearly 4 o'clock when at last the twelve seats in the jury box were filled.

Testimony Finally Starts.

Mahoney, who is 59 years old, mild, and unobtrusive in manner, took the stand and told of the altercation at Roosevelt and Ogden avenue, when he accused the man he asserts was Druggan and who had no city license tag on his automobile. Druggan, however, testified, then later returned with a companion, and both attacked him with baseball bats.

He was beaten to the sidewalk with blows that broke his left arm, cut a deep gash in his right arm, fractured his left knee, and bruised his head.

When directed by Carmichael to exhibit his arms to the jury Mahoney had to be assisted in removing his coat, over the strenuous objections of McDermott. He has not recovered the entire use of his arm. The case will be continued this morning.

$26 in Gifts Sent to Woman Widowed by Gun

Checks totaling $26 received by Mrs. Thomas were forwarded yesterday to Mrs. Ottilie Fomak, 825 Baltimore avenue, whose husband was shot and killed by a watchman last week while he was alleged, he was stealing coal to keep his family warm.

Mrs. William Block and "A Friend" contributed $10 each, Mrs. Mary E. Moore $5, and "Anonymous" $1.

AMERICAN REVISIONS OF THE GENERAL STAFF SYSTEM

In the future the war department will require candidates for the army's general staff eligibility list to be under fifty years of age. This is a wise measure, but much more than an age limit is needed if the general staff system is to be fitted into the American way of life and looking at things.

The general staff system as now practiced is a German product. The elder Von Moltke was its perfecter. It was made in Imperial Germany and it suited German customs and social stratifications. Its design fitted into a bureaucratic system of government where young men rose according to an ordered system of schooling, examination, and seniority. The American system of allowing native ability to rise to the top unhampered was foreign to the Prussian conception.

The general staff system was a means whereby younger men of marked ability could be put in authoritative positions without the necessity of giving them an authoritative rank which would cause jealousy and discontent among their seniors. It was also a means in a class ridden aristocracy whereby the small nobles could be elevated to positions of responsibility without giving them rank offensive to the privileged nobility, and commoners could be exalted at the start. A major on the general staff might actually be giving orders to a general, but the orders apparently came from a higher commander, and dignity was preserved.

Moreover, in an army that was supposed to run like a machine, the general staff provided a safe headquarters for the military leaders. The staff to the war was made up of one of honor. The system fitted Prussia, fitted Germany. It did not fit the armies of peoples who were not regimented by long habit and who were used to personal leadership. The proof came in the war when the general staff system worked better for Germany than it did for any one of the allied powers. It produced for the Germans splendid plans of campaign on both eastern and western fronts, though it broke down in the execution of the latter.

Opposed by unskillful generalship, it maintained an astounding military superiority on all fronts with an inferiority in men and munitions, but its conduct at home produced a revolution, an effect which should be studied by those who propose to put the American general staff in charge of the industries of the country in war time.

On the allied side, years of study in the French general staff produced for the late war a plan of operation as futile as afforded in the history of warfare, and would have led to a second Sedan if the German staff had been at all efficient in controlling its armies after the battle joined.

The English staff was practically in a state of mutiny during the whole war. It developed neither good plans nor able men. England's great contribution to victory—the tanks—were produced in spite of it.

When faced with Germany's supreme effort in the spring of 1918 the general staff of both armies conspired to disobey the supreme war council and brought first upon the English and then upon the French two of the greatest defeats ever known.

Our activities in the war were so short, and the participation of our general and staff officers in the planning and execution of large movements was so limited as to make comment mere guesswork. If the opportunities and responsibilities had presented themselves our staff might have produced its Washingtons and Greeses, its Grants and its Sheridans, although these great leaders rose to prominence by paths now closed by the general staff system.

It should be possible to conduct war and general staff colleges without creating regulations which, however successful they may have been in the aristocratic Germany of yesterday, failed in England and in France and have no record of achievement in our own history.

The various army schools must be continued and encouraged to add to their curriculum of military history, courses in probable developments in warfare that will come about from new inventions.

All that is good in the German general staff system should be preserved, but it must not be adopted to the extent that it becomes the government of the country in time of war. Nor should it be allowed to dominate the industries of the country or to exclude from promotion all who do not belong to its priesthood.

RIDING AND EATING.

Our Mayor Thompson heads a list including nearly every prominent city official, all of whom have fine, big cars bought, run, and repaired out of city money. Our Mayor Thompson also heads a still longer list of prominent and not so prominent officials who have been tendered territorial banquets and presented with cars, and grand places, and diamond rings, and diamond stars, and such like—all at five dollars a throw if you want to attend.

It used to be that if a prominent official wanted to travel around town he was lucky to get even car tickets. And in the old days a hand decorated placard recording suitable sentiments of esteem was all a man expected at the hands of his loyal admirers. But those were the old days.

We've learned higher now. Business and industry set the pace. They increased production so much that they had to create the modern salesman and the modern advertisement in order to stimulate consumption. And the same thing has happened to politics. Taking the cities and milking the jobholder are such productive businesses that consumption had to go up, too. And so our Mayor Thompson and other prominent and near-prominent officials ride and eat and eat and ride. We wonder sometimes why they don't just hog down and quit under the weight of so much honor and so much glory tendered them by their fellow citizens.

A "WELCOME" MAT FOR MUSSOLINI.

Having learned that delegates to the Pan-American congress at Havana will agree to support the United States' immigration policy, with its emphasis on assimilation and an American viewpoint, President Mussolini adds ten articles to the Fascist constitution.

Henceforth all Fascists abroad are to consider themselves under the jurisdiction of Italian diplomats and consular authorities; they must not participate in the internal politics of their countries of residence. In short they are to continue to be Italians and Fascists, and should organize themselves as such, no matter how many miles separate them from Rome.

In normal times the impulse would be to get quite angry with Signor Mussolini's centrifugal egotism, to resent stormily his presumptuous intrusion into the affairs of the United States. It would not be unreasonable for the American state department to reply to the Duce, that if Italian immigrants are to remain always Italians and are to be encouraged by the Italian government to refuse Americanization, then the United States wants no further Italian immigrants.

But special conditions make us, instead, welcome Premier Mussolini's intrusion. We encourage the ambitions of the gentleman who has just sent more than one hundred members of the Sicilian mafia to prison and hard labor. We can use that sort of government here. Fascism administers a kind of justice not possible under our American code. It punishes with a law of retributive severity not to be found in our statute books. If the Italian ambassador and the Italian consuls are unable to handle their compatriots in America who go in for banditry, bootlegging, bombing, blackhanding, and the more brutal forms of bloodshed, we should welcome an army of invasion of black shirt policemen, black shirt judges, black shirt crown attorneys, and black shirt jurors to administer law according to Fascist principles.

CHICAGO, MUSEUM CENTER.

The original Wright airplane has been shipped to London, where it will remain in the British National museum for at least a year. Though Mr. Orville Wright offered no comment beyond stating that the plane had left his laboratory, it will be taken for granted that the loss by America of this first successful heavier-than-air machine is the result of the controversy which caused Mr. Wright to remove his plane from the Smithsonian Institution.

The dispute arose, it will be remembered, over what Mr. Wright termed were unfounded claims made by museum officials on behalf of the Langley aerodrome. He removed his and his brother's machine and at that time said he would send it to England.

We have nothing to do here with the dispute, which is a matter for students of aeronautic history to decide, but the present loss of the Wright plane recalls Mr. Wright's statement on that former occasion, when he said that he would send the plane abroad because he would not allow the Smithsonian to keep it and there was no other museum in the country worthy of housing it.

It is true that there is no other great museum in the country? If so, then it is Chicago's opportunity.

We are planning to hold a great world's fair here in 1933. We have said that people will not come to see ordinary exhibits that they will once did. But they would, we think, patronize a great museum if it held such epochal exhibits as the Wright plane. Great as it is, and national in character, the Smithsonian Institution is too far distant from the center of population to make it easily available. Chicago, on the contrary, is ideally located as a museum center. We already have our Field Museum, the Art Institute, the Historical society, and will soon have the Roosevelt museum; but these should be but beginnings, and one of the permanent memorials to the world's fair of 1933 should be the finest museum in the country.

Editorial of the Day

THE HORSE TRADE IN 1928.
(Illinois State Register, Springfield.)

A jury in Chicago has decided an old fashioned "horse trade" in a new fashioned manner, somewhat at variance with former philosophy and precedent. If there was ever a transaction to which the legal doctrine of "bargain and sale" was to be applied with particular force, it was the average horse trade.

Mrs. Mary C. Llewellyn, society woman and owner of a prize winning stable, sold a thoroughbred saddle horse named Straight Lane to Morris Towney, an attorney, for the sum of $12,000. Mrs. Llewellyn warned him that he would have to improve his horse-manship to control a thoroughbred. Mr. Towney "found that out"—in fact, he was thrown three out of four times when he tried to ride him.

The jury, only four of whom had ever been on a horse in their lives, decided that it was not altogether Mr. Towney's fault that he could not stick on the horse, and ordered Mrs. Llewellyn to return the purchase price and take back the animal regardless of any injury he may have suffered as a result of his experience with an "ordinary rider."

In David Harum's time a horse trade was the horse trade, and juries were exceedingly loath to interfere except in the most aggravated cases. The established principle was "Let the buyer beware," and most men knew something about horses, their stock and their characteristics.

But times have changed. A horse trade today has no special category in the minds of the average jury. Its status is about the same as that of any other transaction of bargain and sale, particularly in the big city where horses are scarce anyhow and peddled stock and the technique of riding a thoroughbred has now in a realm considerably removed from the routine of life.

YOU SAY IT.

"Well," said the magistrate sternly, "are you guilty or not guilty?"

The prisoner drew himself up with calm dignity. "Your worship, I didn't think I came here that I'd be expected to do your job."—Tim Bitts.

CUTTING MONTREAL'S BABY DEATH RATE.

Too much the most interesting report made to the recent conference on baby deaths held at Battle Creek was that made by a nurse from Montreal. The subject of the report was "A Demonstration in Public Health in Montreal" and the name of the nurse is Miss E. B. Hurley.

It appears that a five-year experiment in baby saving is being carried out under the auspices of the University of Montreal. The work is done wholly among French Canadians. These citizens of Canada have very high birth rates and baby death rates that are not a great way off.

At the beginning of the experiment the baby death rate was more than two per cent. It is now 1/2, and they are hoping to bring it below 1/3 before the end of the experiment. The report stated that birth registration is almost perfect, due largely to the offices of the Catholic church. The nurses are given the sum for the babies to be taken with the mothers when the babies were only a few days old.

They found that the great cause of sickness among the Montreal babies was bottle feeding. The rule was to wean the baby when it was very young. There were many children to care for, and the babies came close together and mothers were chronically fatigued. They put their babies on the bottle largely because they thought mother's milk, in the circumstances, did not agree with the babies. The nurses were able to convince them to the contrary in many, if not in most, cases. When the baby had to continue on the bottle the mother was taught how to clean the bottles and nipples, how to pasteurize milk in the home, how to keep milk cool, how to prepare the milk, and how to keep all food clean at all times.

Up to this point Miss Hurley was merely repeating experience that other communities had gone through. She did make her report by telling how they were immunizing babies against consumption. This disease exacts a heavy toll in Montreal and a great many babies are born and brought up in homes where there are persons who are infective with consumption.

On June 23, 1926, Alexander Trepanier, 4 days old, was premortally against consumption, being the first child so vaccinated by the Calmette method on the American continent. These cases belong to the American continent. These cases belong to the American continent. These cases belong to the American continent.

BETTER ANGELS

THERE ARE SO many things we could tell you about Better Angels we will never make an end, unless we begin, quite simply, at the beginning. It must be four or five months ago that a wholly inadequate envelope came to our desk, containing a worn manuscript by Richard Henry Little and a letter from Carl Sandburg. Mr. Sandburg said (and we are quoting from memory, as his letter is no longer to be found) that the manuscript was a story of Lincoln. R. H. L. had once written and that it was too good not to be used again; that perhaps R. H. L. had forgotten it, but there was so much honest-to-God poetry in it he should like to see something done with it. We pushed it to one side temporarily (what with this and that, one has to push so many things aside), but later in the day we read the story, and though we are in such things rather unemotional and our admiration for Lincoln is not unmitigated, we finished it with misty eyes and the awe one has for all beautiful things. Here was a story, told with tenderness and sincerity and artistry; here was what we would call a truly great story.

And this is Better Angels that is being published today for the first time in permanent form. We'd like to tell you the story, but you can read it far more beautifully told in the book; and we'd like even more to tell you of its background (it was in central Illinois when R. H. L. was a child, with Lincoln for his first great hero in a time when Lincoln was already a myth), but even this we can only sketch in. There were many people there, then, both white and black, who had known Lincoln, and R. H. L. would listen eagerly to any of them who would tell him stories of the great man. And it is why you feel that Lincoln (to come at last to the dominating figure of the story) would have acted with the same infinite kindness and infinite pathos had the incident happened in life instead of imagination. It has the vivid reality of a dream that a child once ardently believed, and it is written with the reticent simplicity of a sincere artist.

You will find Better Angels in all the book stores at the Trib. Pub. Serv. Dept. this morning, bound simply and beautifully in black and gold, and we hope it's bound well, for we've an idea it's a book you'll want to read many times. Carl Sandburg wrote the foreword, and we've to thank him for that; but most of all we are grateful to him for discovering the story and for his deep and generous interest in it.

STORY IN PROSE

I've made a wish for a wind
To send on a far-blowing quest,
To carry a fragile story
To a window looking west;
For a cherished thing must travel
Ever a golden flight,
Carrying the hopes of fancy
Under the stars of night.

She will strike and find it
Blown on the window pane;
A heart-quickened melody—
A path in Spain;
Will, rose leaves on the flagstones,
Soft-scattered to recall:
A smile, a kiss, a promise,
And a rose-red Spanish shawl.

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—To the mother who in today's paper objects to Walt's secret I should like to suggest that she is making a golden opportunity. A child old enough to read is already too old for the first lesson of "life's mystery."

The mother should be overjoyed that her children are asking questions. Why, she can make this cartoon do almost all the talking.

It is surprising how little one has to tell the very young child. No details are necessary, and as the child asks it should be answered, truthfully, thoughtfully, seriously, and just as a matter of fact. Plant and animal life should be brought to the child's attention so early that it "always knew." At 3 1/2 my little girl (having observed chickens for some time) came in one day, took my hand in hers, and led me to the "puggish Smith's dog laid." Propagation is natural and normal, but it can be made to appear abnormal throughout life to the man or woman who in childhood was evaded or mystified. Cultivate your children's confidence and it will be reflected in their trustworthiness.

And in support of Mr. King—surely he merits unbounded praise for the clean, wholesome, and very clever human characterization of his little cartoon.

Mrs. E. R. McCulloch.

TO PREVENT ACCIDENTS.

The only way to eliminate accidents at train crossings, especially where the driver of an auto is ignorant of the location of railroad track crossings, is to dig a sharp sided ditch about twenty feet before the tracks, directly across the road. Any one driving across such a bump will feel it, and he will stop every time a street car comes.

For the Annual Sale

Every Pair of Shoes Is Reduced!

The month-long February Shoe sale is established by years of custom. It is more than a sale. It is a service—and for three reasons: because every shoe is reduced—for men, women, and children; because the shoes are standard grade, exactly what is sold throughout the year at normal prices; and because the sale lasts an entire month. The field of choice is so wide, the period of time so long, that all may be well served.

LINDBERGH HOPS TO CUBA TODAY; NEAR TOUR'S END

Haiti Showers Airman with New Honors.

(Copyright, 1928, By the New York Times.)
PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Feb. 7.—Haitians and Americans, who saw Col. Charles A. Lindbergh yesterday as a hero, today had better opportunities to see him as a man. And it was a day in which enthusiasm mounted with such function in his honor.

The "color line" it must be said, often plays its part here especially in the social life, not only between many Americans and many Haitians, but also between the colored and black Haitians themselves. But one would never have known its existence from the gayety and good feeling of the mingling throng at the Lindbergh receptions today.

Off for Cuba Today.

Col. Lindbergh will take off from Havana at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow morning for Havana on the last leg of his Latin-American tour. He expects to land at the city, where the Pan-American conference is in session at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. This will be his last stop in Latin America on the good will tour on which he left Washington, D. C., on Dec. 13. From Havana he will return to the United States.

After leaving Port au Prince, he plans to deviate slightly to the north along the coast for a while, so as to cut down the water gap to about a hundred miles. Then he will head straight for the Guantanamo naval reservation, circle over it and continue by air line to Havana.

Col. Lindbergh estimates the entire distance he will cover from 700 to 800 miles, making this the second longest flight since he left Mexico City, the longest being the hop from Caracas, Venezuela, to St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands.

Cuba Awaits Lindy.

(Copyright, 1928, By the New York Times.)
HAVANA, Feb. 7.—Havana tonight has forgotten the Pan-American conference and is waiting for Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. The most absorbing topic of conversation in the city tonight is the best spot from which to watch him land, for the Cuban government has made such stringent rules regarding the flying field that only a relatively small number of privileged persons will be able to get anywhere near him. But on the long ride through the city to the president's palace, thousands will be able to see the youthful aviator as he passes through the Avenida Carlos Miguel de Céspedes and the beautiful Malecon.

People are flocking into Havana as never before, partly drawn by the growing popularity of the city with its freedom and delightful climate, and partly by the coming of Col. Lindbergh. The hotels are filled and people are finding difficulty in obtaining places to stay.

The open reception at the American embassy on Thursday afternoon promises to produce a crowd which will ruin some of Ambassador Jodel's flower beds. The American Legion and the American club are planning to entertain Col. Lindbergh, and it is probable that the reception to the world's greatest aviator here will equal anything since he first returned from France.

INSISTS STATES SHARE COST OF FLOOD CONTROL

Coolidge Is Standing Pat on Program.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 7.—(Special.)—President Coolidge is standing pat on his flood control program involving the sharing of the burden of expense by the states.

Despite the prospect that a majority of the house flood control committee and the senate commerce committee will favor legislation in which the federal government is made responsible for the entire cost, the President sees no reason why there should be any substantial modification of his plan.

The President's views, as made known at the White House today, were regarded as indicating that the conference which he held with Secretary of War Davis, Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Maj. Gen. Edgar Jadwin, chief of engineers, on Saturday resulted in a decision against any compromise.

Influenced by Propaganda.

The President, it was indicated, doubts if congress will in the end be influenced by the propaganda in favor of a flood control program paid for entirely by the federal government.

Representative Frear (Rep., Wis.), La Follette radical, who ordinarily lines up against the administration, told the President today that he is with him on the proposition that the states and local communities must bear a portion of the expense.

Mr. Frear declared that if congress approves a program by which the federal government bears the entire expense of flood control work on the lower Mississippi the action will serve as a precedent which will mean future "pork barrel" projects. It will be difficult, he said, to resist legislation dealing similarly with other rivers.

Mr. Frear said he favored the creation of a small commission directly accountable to the President to take charge of flood control work. He said he was in agreement with other members of the house committee on most phases of the matter "excepting on the proposal to abandon the long established local contribution law in favor of flood control and many other governmental activities."

GOV. JACKSON'S LONG EXPECTED TRIAL ON TODAY

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 7.—(Special.)

Everything was in readiness tonight for the start of the trial in county criminal court tomorrow of Gov. Ed Jackson on a charge of conspiracy to commit a felony. Jackson, it is expected, will enter plea of not guilty, and the selection of a jury will begin.

Jackson's co-defendants, George V. Coffin, Republican county and city chairman, and Robert I. Marsh, Jackson's former law partner, who filed motions for separate trials, will be accommodated by Charles M. McCabe, Crawfordville attorney chosen as special judge, and William H. Remy, prosecuting attorney, has elected to try Jackson first.

Selection of Jury to Cost Time.

The jury box will be filled with the twelve members of the regular criminal court panel. Held in reserve will be forty-two members of the special venire called for jury service. If that number is exhausted there are forty-five more property holders who will report Thursday.

Both state and defense have ten preemptory challenges. Selection of a jury is expected to be long drawn out requiring more time than presentation of evidence.

Chief Charge Is Bribery.

The indictment, returned in the course of the grand jury investigation of alleged wholesale political corruption in Indiana under Klan rule which resulted also in indictment of Mayor John L. Duval, six city councilmen and other officials here, alleges that Jackson and the other two defendants conspired to bribe Warren T. McCray, while the latter was governor, to name James E. MacDonald prosecuting attorney of Marion county.

The trial may develop into a technical fight over the question whether the statute of limitations applies.

DEMOCRATS JOIN RADICALS IN WAR ON THIRD TERM

Indications Point to Victory in Senate.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Radical Republicans and Democrats joined forces today in an attack on the "draft Coolidge" amendment.

For four hours the senate debated the third-term resolution of Senator La Follette (Rep., Wis.), with all indications pointing to its adoption as soon as a final vote is reached.

Senator Bingham (Rep., Conn.), leading the administration defenders, moved a motion to refer the resolution to the judiciary committee, but this was opposed by its supporters, who suspected an effort to sidetrack the proposition without action.

Further debate is in prospect tomorrow, after which the Bingham motion will meet defeat, and a majority of the senate then will probably go on record as favoring maintenance of the tradition against a third presidential term.

Directed at Coolidge.

The resolution declares it to be the sense of the senate "that the precedent established by Washington and other Presidents of the United States in retiring from the presidential office after their second term has become, by universal concurrence, a part of our republican system of government and that any departure from this time honored custom would be serious, unpatriotic and fraught with peril to our free institutions."

This language, which is identical with that of a resolution adopted by the house during the Grant administration in 1875, is followed by a clause stating that "the senate commends observance of this precedent by the President."

It was the last clause which drew the fire of administration Republicans, including Senators Bingham, Gillett (Rep., Mass.), and Foss (Rep., O.).

Senator Bingham charged that the introduction of the resolution was a "political gesture, put forth by the opponents of the present occupant of the White House to make it more difficult to renounce or reflect him."

The administration Republicans were willing to concede that the first part of the resolution would be proper if it was not connected directly with President Coolidge by the addition of the last clause. They argue that another term for President Coolidge would not be a third elective term.

Senator La Follette reviewed what he described as an unbroken succession of precedents against a third term from the time of George Washington down to the present day. He then dealt specifically with the Coolidge situation.

Verdict Sends Horse Back to Mrs. Llewellyn's Stable

Straight Loco, thoroughbred saddle horse, was back in the stables of Mrs. Mary C. Llewellyn, north shore society woman, yesterday. She withdrew her motion before Judge H. Sterling Powers to set aside the verdict in favor of Morris Townley, an attorney. With the return of the mount a judgment of $12,000, the sale price, was entered against Mrs. Llewellyn. Mr. Townley won the suit his representation that Straight Loco was not the ill-mannered horse he thought he was buying.

COOLIDGE ENCOURAGES PLANS FOR NEW YORK TO LONDON DIRIGIBLES

Washington, D. C., Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Tentative approval of two projects designed to speed the transportation of passengers, mail, and express across the Atlantic was accorded by President Coolidge today.

One of the projects call for operation of dirigibles capable of traveling between New York and London in 28 hours; the other would provide six large aircraft carrying ships fast enough to cross the Atlantic in four days.

The latter proposal which was made by a group of shipbuilders and engineers headed by Lawrence Wilder, former president of the builders of the giant aircraft carrier Saratoga, would cut two days off the regular passenger transportation time between New York and London. It would also deliver letters across the Atlantic by the use of aircraft in two days.

The President believes that if the operation of these ships prove successful they will be of great value as aircraft carriers in time of national emergency.

The President has directed Secretary Hoover to investigate the proposition and give such cooperation as is possible.

THE PAYROLL CITY

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

"PAYROLL CITY" POST OFFICE

HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

AMERICA'S GREAT WORKSHOP

HERE, within the boundaries of Greater Chicago, but a few miles from the heart of the Loop, only a mile outside the city limits, in Cook County, the flood-gates of Opportunity are being opened through the offering of this greatest of all realty investments—the "Payroll City."

Large Annual Payroll

Close to a district containing today more than 400 plants, representing an investment of over $500,000,000, with a yearly payroll of over $250,000,000, this property is in line for the first and greatest advance in values that will surely come because of harbor and deep waterway improvements, the great municipal development of Chicago, the absorption of new industries, the enlargement of those already here, the great activity soon to precede the 1933 World's Fair, and the rapidly growing population of the entire Greater Chicago area.

Great Building Program

The "Payroll City" will be a giant development in its comprehensive building program. It takes skilled workers to produce the variety of "necessary products" now being manufactured in this district, and skilled labor wants, and has the money to pay for, good homes—not shacks.

Homes Ready to Move Into

Our building activity has started—we have homes ready to move into today, and we will have more, many more—brick homes, brick two and three flats, in restricted areas, in the heart of this great PAYROLL region on big lots 40x125 feet. As this great program unfolds and develops, the business frontage on MAIN streets in our district should show marked increases in values and consequent profits for every dollar invested here.

Write us for details about how you can have a home, flat building or bungalow on any lot you buy from us in this great sale—without any additional cash down payment

168 NO. MICHIGAN AVE. CENTRAL 3888
CHICAGO

In a one-industry city in Greater Chicago the passing of a few years has seen $3,000 business lots rise to $250,000. The "Payroll City" is served by a region of MANY industries, growing, working and developing into greater industries. What will OUR future be? What will be the investor's profit here? Adjoining "Payroll City", property that originally sold for $800 a foot is today worth $3,500 a foot. Certainly our property will profit by industrial growth and expansion in a similar manner.

17,000 People Here Today

The growth of population in the "Payroll City" during the last three years has been tremendous—but its greatest growth has not yet started. 17,000 people here today; a million ten years hence is the prediction of experts. Let's cut the prediction in half and base values on that, and the figures almost dazzle the imagination. Here are streets that should top 79th Street values of today in a few years. There are Milwaukee Avenue and 63rd Street values in this district, values that should produce riches in their development.

Profit Here With Industry

Leaders of industry, financial giants, merchants, port and railroad experts, all have forecasted the future of this property. Wet the hair, sprinkle on RAVOL, massage briskly, then rinse in water—use no soap.

And Now Comes—

The Soapless Shampoo

There is no sign of efficiency in a shampoo. Chemists can make a substance that will lather profusely and yet have no cleansing virtue. RAVOL, the wonderful hair wash and scalp tonic, does not lather—but, OH, HOW IT CLEANS. It is entirely new in principle—a scientific product made from the juice of a life-giving plant. It contains no alkali, alcohol, acids or animal greases. It instantly dissolves all hair and scalp impurities, and is itself dissolved in water.

RAVOL corrects dandruff, falling hair, dry, itchy scalp, oiliness and thin, lifeless hair. It makes your scalp immaculate—it gives your hair an immediate glow of life and brilliance.

The Soapless Shampoo
RAVOL
ANTISEPTIC
NO ALKALI - NO ALCOHOL

Ever notice after a soap shampoo how your scalp smart? That's the effect of the alkali that has been released by the water.

After a RAVOL Shampoo note the difference. No smarting, stinging, itching, but a cool, exhilarating tingle that denotes a happy scalp and hair that is alive with rich, natural softness and lustre. And not a sign of stickiness; you don't have to wait three days to get your hair back to its original softness. RAVOL makes it delightfully soft and silky in five minutes.

Cooler and more efficient than soap shampoo—RAVOL costs about three cents per treatment. Get a 65c bottle and learn what a real shampoo—a soapless shampoo—can do for your hair.

IMAGE OF CHRIST BIDS ARGENTINA, CHILE TO PEACE

Stands Alone on Barren Summit of Mountain.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PUEBLO DEL INCA, Argentina.

Feb. 7.—High on Cumbre pass, 13,000 feet below one summit of the mighty

Andes, a highway before the world to read and heed.

Carved into the base of the monument to Christ the Redeemer, the Christ of the Andes, are these words:

"Sooner shall these mountains crumble into dust than the people of Argentina and Chile break the peace, which they have sworn to maintain at the feet of Christ the Redeemer."

Facing toward the north is the sublime figure of the Saviour, the left hand supporting his cross, while the right is raised in benediction.

Goal of Many Pilgrimages.

Round this symbolic figure swirl the bitter winds of the high mountains, and nowhere can they be more biting, even in midsummer. Not a bit of vegetation relieves the monotonous foreground of the pass. To north, to south, east and west, mighty peaks fling their heads into a sky of flawless blue.

The goal of many a pilgrimage, this statue has sanctified ground trod by countless feet through the ages. The Cumbre was a highway before the Spaniards came to South America. It became their track from western ocean to eastern plain. Over it marched one of the armies of the immortal San Martin. Below it to west and east, toward the end of the last century, armies prepared for war. Today it is host to the symbol of peace on earth, good will toward men.

The way of the pilgrim who climbs the Cumbre today is difficult. Since the completion of the Trans-Andino tunnel, travelers pass through the divide, 2,000 feet below the summit. The road which once was the chief highway between Chile and the Argentine has fallen into such disuse that vehicles pass across it only with the greatest difficulty. But it repays the effort.

A Symbol of Peace.

There is something about the bronze of more than twice life size on its pedestal rough-hewn from the stone of the mountain, standing four-square to all the fury of the mountain winds, which banishes petty thoughts and selfish considerations. Not the statue itself, perhaps, induces this mood; for it is a figure well-nigh forgotten.

Ah, that's the world! Forsaken—alone. In a desert place. And what man who views this counterfeits of the author of the sublime sacrifice does not find his thoughts racing back through the ages to another cross upon another hill?

Peace on earth, good will to men.

Two nations which put their trust in such a symbol will hardly find that trust betrayed.

A Barren Country.

The journey across the Andes is a long one. We leave Mendoza at seven of a summer morning and climb into the foothills just outside the town. To the east stretches the flat, level plain, sloping gently down to the sea a day and a night to the eastward. We are already 3,000 feet above its level when we begin our journey. We round a spur of the hills—foothills, they call them, but they would be great mountains elsewhere—to catch a fleeting glimpse of the giant peak of Aconcagua. To the south is the volcano framed in the yellow walls of the canyon. Then that, too, is gone, and ahead of us we have nothing but the canyon walls until we round a curve

which reveals the "Three Penitents"

on the far horizon.

A few minutes later we have reached

Puerto del Inca, the bridge of the Inca,

where those of us who wish to view

the Christ of the Andes descend, unless we have arranged to continue the journey from the summit to Los Andes

by muleback, a long and tiring ride.

rocks and marked with great slides of gravel and broken stones.

We are hemmed in by barren mountains on every side, and no green thing grows except along the water course.

At Uspallata the canyon widens into a plain of stone and brush and desolation. We have a historic interest here, for it was at Uspallata that San Martin pitched camp before dividing his main army into two forces. But our halt is brief.

The Bridge of the Inca.

Again in the canyon. Up and up.

A rack and pinion is brought into play on the steeper gradients. We cross a lattice bridge and for a brief instant, through the canyon of the Rio Tupongato, straight as an eagle's flight, we glimpse the volcano Tupungato, more than 22,000 feet high. Its snowy crown framed in the yellow walls of the canyon. Then that, too, is gone, and

ahead of us we have nothing but the canyon walls until we round a curve

which reveals the "Three Penitents"

on the far horizon.

A few minutes later we have reached

Puerto del Inca, the bridge of the Inca,

where those of us who wish to view

the Christ of the Andes descend, unless we have arranged to continue the journey from the summit to Los Andes

by muleback, a long and tiring ride.

WALL STREET BETS ON AL AND HOOVER TO WIN NOMINATION

New York, Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Wall street is making its bets on the presidential race, although the nominating conventions of the two major parties are four months off and the field full of unknown quantities and dark horses.

At present, according to one of those handling the money, the odds are being placed on Gov. Smith and Herbert

HOOVER to win the nominations. One better has placed $5,000 to $2,000 that

Al Smith will receive the Democratic endorsements and it was said there is plenty of money waiting for takers at one to three and a half that the governor will be the next President.

Betting on the Republican convention makes the secretary of commerce

a 5 to 5 favorite for the nomination, with Vice President Dawes and Gov.

Lowden of Illinois poor seconds at 2½ to 1. They are betting 10 to 1 against Senator Curtis of Kansas.

PAY SCALE SNAG BLOCKS MINING COMMISSIONERS

The wage scale continues to be the stumbling block to an adjustment of the mine differences, Rice Miller, president of the Illinois Coal Operators association, declared last night. Mr. Miller is one of four commissioners who have been working on plans to revamp working rules and wage scale rates for Illinois miners.

The commission, composed of two operators and two union representatives, will meet again this morning at the Auditorium hotel for further conference. Yesterday was the date set for submission of a joint report of the commission.

Mr. Miller said the operators believed the miners' representatives could consider a wage scale independent of the international scale committee's decree that nothing less than the Jacksonville scale was acceptable.

"We found they would not entertain a proposition that provided for a reduced wage," said Mr. Miller.

TRAIN CRASHES MICHIGAN CITY AUTO; 1 KILLED

Dr. Charles H. Seymour Is Victim; Two Hurt.

Dr. Charles H. Seymour, 50 years old, dentist and well known Democratic leader at Michigan City, Ind., was fatally injured yesterday afternoon when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by a South Shore train at Hammond, Ind. He died a short time later.

In the same accident J. B. Faulkner, publisher of the Michigan City Dispatch, and E. M. Moran, a Michigan City druggist, were injured. Faulkner sustained the vision of Dr. Seymour and the motorman of the train was killed for the crash.

The three men were on their way to Chicago when the accident occurred. Dr. Seymour was formerly a trustee of Michigan City township and Faulkner is a former state senator of Indiana.

Two Women Die in Crash.
In Gary two colored women were killed when the car in which they were riding skidded on a wet pavement and crashed into a post. They were Thelma Cotton, 25 years old, and Harrietta Jordan, 27, sisters-in-law.

Two passengers and the crew of a Cottage Grove street car were injured when it smashed into a truck loaded with stone in front of 7436 South Chicago avenue. Those hurt are: G. J. Quinn, 45 years old, 7525 Cole avenue, the motorman; Valentine Karpel, 25, of 1221 Cottage Grove avenue, the conductor; Miss Rae Panama, 22, of 8013 Clyde avenue, and John Skolicki, 25, of 8609 Colfax avenue.

Death Driver's Bonds Raised.
Bonds for Peter Zukas, 1957 West 22d street, were raised from $15,000 to $75,000 yesterday by Judge Philip J. Finnegan on testimony of the police that he was intoxicated on Sunday when he drove his automobile into a group of persons, killing two children and a woman. The hearing was continued until March 7.

Dr. Frederick Weber, 19 years old, 1545 North Lawrence avenue, retired physician, was struck and injured at Randolph and Dearborn streets by a motor truck driven by Floyd McElabb, 125 North Kilbourn avenue.

No deaths caused by automobile accidents in Cook county were reported during the day. The motor toll since Jan. 1 remained at 164.

Paul Ash Collapses During Stage Concert at Oriental
Paul Ash, entertainer, collapsed on the stage of the Oriental theater yesterday while conducting his orchestra. He was carried into the wings and resuscitation was attempted. They found that he was suffering from indigestion and removed him to his home. Dr. Arthur W. Mayne, house physician, said last night that Mr. Ash probably would be confined to bed for a few days.

BRITISH CLERGY AND BISHOPS O.K. REVISED PRAYER

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, Feb. 7.—Two houses of the Anglican church assembly approved the newly revised Book of Common Prayer for the Church of England.

The house of bishops approved the book by a vote of 25 to 5. The vote of the house of clergy was 247 to 25. The third house of the assembly, the laity, adjourned until tomorrow before the debate had been ended.

Each of the three houses met separately to consider the measure. At each meeting the public packed the galleries to hear the churchmen's arid debates on the advisability of revising the book before again submitting it to the house of commons.

Opponents of the revised book contended that no appreciable change had been made since the first revisions had been rejected in the house of commons in December. The debate centered mainly on the reservation of the sacrament. Opponents said this was a step toward Roman Catholicism.

Why Be Sluggish at ANY Age?

Age need not bring on sluggishness—and won't, if you give the system a tiny bit of calcium now and then. Calcium cleanses the system as no cathartic can, with none of the after-effects that make it so injurious. They form no habit—except as they gradually induce the bowels to move naturally and without aid. Calcium wafers are the best insurance against auto-intoxication.

Try it!

A five-day test will prove to you very conclusively the system's need for calcium, and the decided benefit from these little wafers. Your druggist has the test size for pocket is 10c. Or the family size, 50c.

REFUSE KRESGE'S $500,000 GIFT, APPEAL TO DRYS

Scandal Taints Money, Reformers Told.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.] Washington, D. C., Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Acknowledgment that the failure of three-fourths or more of the agents in the prohibition service in recent merit system tests has demoralized prohibition enforcement throughout the country was made to the house today in a report submitted with the 1929 treasury department appropriation bill.

The bill proposes an aggregate appropriation of $17,734,070 for prohibition enforcement—$12,729,140 to the prohibition bureau and $5,004,930 for liquor law enforcement by the coast guard—during the fiscal year beginning July 1 next.

In its report, the house appropriations committee calls attention to the complaint of Prohibition Commissioner James M. Dornan that less than one-third of the 2,000 agents who took the civil service examination qualified.

The report continues that, "without any eligible register from which to select the successors to these men, the service is in the predicament of having many individuals regarded as their best enforcement officers under sentence of rejection, but permitted to stay in the service with dismissal impending."

"Such a situation," according to the report, "has caused a demoralization of the forces which in no way is a helpful factor to enforcement work."

Records of the committee's executive session hearings disclose that Commissioner Dornan has hopes that a new examination for dry agents will accept this tainted money and use it to make other people good?

Tries to Protect Kresge.

It is my understanding that Dr. F. Scott McBride, head of the league, minimizes the court findings and says the league will await a possible appeal to higher courts by its financial angel. It doesn't want to let his money get out of its clutches. It will look for any legal technicality on which to base its action. The league will resort to the old theory that the end justifies the means."

Mr. McBride, it was reported tonight, told friends that the Kresge contribution was accepted as soon as it was offered, is now being spent in furtherance of the league propaganda campaign, and that there is no intention, so far as he knows, of returning it.

Church May Oust Him.

New York, Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Sebastian S. Kresge, chain store multimillionaire, may be dropped from the membership rolls of the fashionable Madison Avenue M. E. church here as a result of the jury's verdict which found him guilty on six counts of infidelity, as charged by Mrs. Doris Mercer Kresge, his second wife, and recommended that she be given a divorce.

The Rev. Ralph W. Sockman, pastor of the church, from which detectives trailed the $5 and 10 cent store magnate to his love nest here with Gladys Adele Flinn, 19 year old church worker and former Natick, Mass., stenographer, said tonight that action of this nature may be taken by the church board.

Mr. McBride, it was reported tonight, told friends that the Kresge contribution was accepted as soon as it was offered, is now being spent in furtherance of the league propaganda campaign, and that there is no intention, so far as he knows, of returning it.

Church May Oust Him.

New York, Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Sebastian S. Kresge, chain store multimillionaire, may be dropped from the membership rolls of the fashionable Madison Avenue M. E. church here as a result of the jury's verdict which found him guilty on six counts of infidelity, as charged by Mrs. Doris Mercer Kresge, his second wife, and recommended that she be given a divorce.

The Rev. Ralph W. Sockman, pastor of the church, from which detectives trailed the $5 and 10 cent store magnate to his love nest here with Gladys Adele Flinn, 19 year old church worker and former Natick, Mass., stenographer, said tonight that action of this nature may be taken by the church board.

MURDER TRIALS OF COAST GUARDS BEGIN TOMORROW

Miami, Fla., Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Can members of the United States coast guard now engaged in a war on run runners get a fair trial in South Florida?

United States district attorneys who are to defend several members of the guard say they cannot. They have requested that the names of citizens of Dade, Monroe, and Broward counties be excluded from the venire of 150 talemen from the South Florida federal district which is to try coast guardmen for the murder of two alleged bootleggers.

The state's attorneys who are prosecuting the guardmen in the federal courts before Judge William B. Shepard of Jacksonville object to the exclusion of the names of citizens from these three counties. As Judge Shepard has already excluded these names, the state may use this as a basis of appeal.

The first trial of guardmen will be that of H. P. "Two Gun" Parry, Joseph Kaslon, and M. E. Lowery, charged with first degree murder in connection with the fatal wounding last March 14 of Erman H. Jones off Tahiti beach.

Coast Guardmen P. E. Shaw, F. S. Austin, Otis Meekins, B. C. Smith, and Edward McAuld, charged with second degree murder for the slaying of "Red" Shannon after a rum chase in Biscayne bay in February, 1926, will be tried immediately following completion of the Jones case.

Hughes Advises Not to Pay

Self-appointed watchmen at night, 25 to 50 cents for automobiles parked at the curb, may soon be a thing of the past. By an investigation of Police Commissioner James M. Dornan, the commission received complaints of watchmen who were paid by shaking the street walk argument, it was found that the watchmen were not paid by the city, but by the car owners. The council has ordered an investigation of the matter.

Elmer Praises Lingeman as He Has Before

Lincoln Reading Is Also Pleasing to Critic.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.
John Lingeman, collector, burst upon the air in recital from W-G-N, 9:30 to 10, furnishing, as might be expected, the artistic program of the evening.

How familiar the name, Johann Lingeman! This column has oft and enthusiastically praised his work during former recitals at WEBH. It is like old times returning to find him again on the air in half-hour recitals.

For not only is there a characteristic purity and brightness of tone, but there is distinctly cool poise in the phrasing. It will be some considerable reward for listeners to allow their imaginations to grasp this latent quality of spontaneity on Mr. Lingeman's next appearance.

His program included the first and second movements of a cello concerto by Lalo and three pieces by Poppo. Lalo seemed severely classical, almost cold. But every time I hear the gracious Poppo the more I admire him. Correctly not, last evening I noticed that in a way we find some thing of Bach in Poppo.

The Lincoln program, from New York, through W-G-N, 8 to 9, included a reading by Edgar White Burrill based on Ida M. Tarbell's "He Knew Lincoln," and incidental music by a mixed chorus and an orchestra. I was not at all interested in the descriptive talk preceding the appearance of Mr. Burrill, but when this rural impersonator appeared all else on the air, for me, disappeared. I remembered his effective work on the Lincoln program last year. I hope to be able to hear him year after year, so truly does he seem to portray the spirit and atmosphere of Lincoln and his surroundings.

The two hour program by Herman Feiler's instrumental sextet, and Estelle Hughes Feiler, soprano, at WMAQ, 8 to 10, was in all respects thoroughly enjoyable from a listener's standpoint. And as fully praiseworthy from musical, technical, and program standpoints. Estelle Hughes Feiler unquestionably made many friends by her lovely singing and songs. The instrumentalists have as much right to be proud for their contribution.

I did not hear near all that I wanted to of the musical production, "M. Beaucaire," given by WEBH's musical staff from 8 to 9. This is new stuff, and sounded a good note.

WELD FOR ROBBING 25.
Two young men accused of having taken property valued at $5,000 from twenty-five victims were held to the grand jury yesterday in bonds of $50,000 each. They are Wayne Holman, 22, of 2136 Emerson avenue, and Charles Smith, 25, of 4040 Broadway. Most of their accused are taxi drivers and telephone collectors.

BRITISH CABLE TRUST TRIES TO SHUT NAVAL RADIO OF U. S. IN CHINA

(Copyright, 1928, By The Chicago Tribune.)
SHANGHAI, Feb. 7.—The British and Danish consular authorities here have lodged a protest with the Chinese authorities against the American consular and naval authorities for the maintenance of radio communication between Shanghai and Manila. The protest alleges the American radio station in the consulate here infringes on the monopolistic privileges of communication which China grants of many years ago to the so-called British-Danish cable trust, which includes ownership of the Great Northern and Eastern Extension Cable companies and a majority control of the Commercial Pacific Cable company, a British company of American registry. Owing to the excessive cable rates between Shanghai and Manila, which are considerably higher than the cable rates across the Atlantic, although the distance between Shanghai and Manila is only about 1,000 miles, the United States naval authorities recently established a radio station in the American consulate here for the purpose of sending official service messages. The station does not handle commercial messages; hence the present protest is interpreted as an attempt by the British and Danish cable interests to force the United States to use the cable instead of the radio.

BURNS MAY PROVE FATAL.
Menomonee, Wis., Feb. 7.—(Special.)—Mrs. Elizabeth Tutill, 78, probably will not recover from burns suffered Tuesday noon when her clothing caught fire, from a hot stove.

RADIO STATIONS FIGHT DEMAND OF UNION MUSICIANS

Call Parley Today on Remote Broadcasts.

The protest made yesterday by the Chicago Broadcasters' association against demands of the Chicago Federation of Musicians for supervision over remote control in radio stations will be discussed today by the broadcasters and union representatives.

Announcement of the conference was made yesterday by James Petrillo, head of the Chicago union, which demands that there shall be a certain number of players hired in studios where orchestral music is broadcast via remote control.

Mr. Petrillo explained that many of the large Chicago stations have refused to hire orchestras who will sit idle in studios while programs from outside points are broadcast.

"The broadcasters hereby register emphatic objection to such a demand," says a statement they issued yesterday. "It will result in the discontinuing of some if not all remote control pick-ups, many of which now hire more players than they ordinarily would if the use of remote control is prohibited."

"The Broadcasters' association continues the demand of the union to be an attempt to make the broadcasters employ musicians thrown out of work through enforcement of the prohibition law, which has resulted in the padlocking of hotels, cafes, and night clubs. "Radio has created extra employment of musicians at the rate of $500,000 annually."

Petrillo said some of the large Chicago stations are operating their musical programs on a shoe string basis, while others give employment to musicians and mix their programs with remote control features.

Weather Bureau to Issue Forecasts at City Airport

A branch of the Chicago weather bureau will be opened on Monday at the municipal airport, 630 street and Cicero avenue, to advise flyers on atmospheric conditions. Henry J. Cox, chief of the bureau, announced yesterday. The station will be established in the administration building at the field and will be in charge of Fred Week. Four forecasts will be made daily. The observers will ascend in a balloon to determine conditions in the upper air, according to Mr. Cox.

Father of Six Shoots Self and Tries to Kill Daughter

A drink crazed father of six children, Andrew Rodenski, 52, of Niles, shot himself five times in his home yesterday and attempted to kill his 14-year-old daughter, Helen. When Helen and her sister, Josephine, aged 8, came home from school they noticed a wound in his neck. Helen screamed. Rodenski then seized the girl and began choking her until she broke away when he fired at her. He turned the revolver and shot himself four times in the breast and cheek. The mother was away at work in a grocery store and the other children were not home from school at the time.

SUPPLY OFFICER DENIES PLANTING LIQUOR ON BASS

Movement of Packages Is Told at Trial.

Capt. Roy E. "Duke" Davis, supply officer of the 202d Coast Artillery of the Broadway armory and secretary of the registration committee of the Central association of the Amateur Athletic union, yesterday testifying in the court martial of Capt. J. Leland Bass on charges of irregularities in the handling of liquor, denied responsibility for the five cases of liquor found in furniture being shipped by Capt. Bass.

At a previous session, Capt. Bass testified that Capt. Davis admitted to him that he planted liquor as a joke in Bass' furniture. The liquor was seized by prohibition agents when several bottles were broken and their contents leaked out.

When called as a witness by the court, Capt. Davis asserted his constitutional rights and refused to answer questions on the ground that his answers might incriminate him.

HOUSE VOTES TO BOOST OFFICERS' TRAINING FUNDS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 7.—[Special.]—Overriding the desire of the administration and the recommendations of the house appropriations committee, the house today voted to add $531,400 to the item in the house appropriations committee providing funds for the summer training for reserve officers. The addition of the sum raises the appropriation for this purpose to $2,657,000 and increases the number of officers who can be trained from 18,000 to 20,000.

The action of the house in this first test of strength proved a source of encouragement for officers of the naval reserve, who consider the funds provided by the 1929 budget for its activities as insufficient. As a result it is now certain that an attempt will be made when the naval appropriation bill comes up to boost the budget figure of $4,145,000 for naval reserve activities.

The amendment providing the increase for the pay and allowances of members of the officers' reserve corps on active duty for the fifteen day training period during the summer was offered by Representative Wurzbach (Rep., Tex.), a veteran of the Spanish-American war.

PORTUGAL EXILES GENERAL.

LISBON, Portugal, Feb. 7.—[Tribune Cable.]—Gen. Gomes da Costa, who was ordered into exile by the Portuguese government, left Lisbon today for Italy.

Watch Your Kidneys After Colds and Grip!

Many Functional Kidney Disorders Are the Result of Germ Diseases

DOES winter find you lame, stiff and achy? Do you feel tired, drowsy—suffer nagging backache, headache and dizzy spells? Are the kidney secretions too frequent, scanty or painful in passage? Do you wonder what is wrong?

Know then that these are often signs of improper kidney action. Colds and grip increase the poisons in the blood and bring extra work to the kidneys. When the kidneys act sluggishly, waste impurities remain in the blood and cause many unpleasant symptoms.

One is apt to feel tired and drowsy—to have a dull, nagging backache and annoying headaches and dizzy spells. That the kidneys are not working right is often shown by too frequent, scanty or painful secretions.

Thousands have learned to rely on Doan's Pills after winter's colds and chills. Doan's, a stimulant diuretic, increase the secretion of the kidneys and thus aid in the elimination of waste impurities. They have earned a nationwide reputation. Ask your neighbor!

Insist on the Genuine Doan's and Refuse Substitutes.

The genuine Doan's Pills may be identified by the maple leaf trade mark and the signature "Jas. Doan". They are sold by good dealers everywhere and have been publicly endorsed by more than 60,000 satisfied users. Demand the genuine Doan's and don't accept a substitute.

"BE PREPARED!"

20,000 Chicago boys live by this code . . .

Be prepared! In the woods, on the water, in the city streets, in the ordinary run of daily living, the Boy Scout stands prepared because he keeps himself strong, controls himself, and learns how to meet emergencies.

Be prepared! In the training provided by the Scouting program, the Boy Scout is prepared to be a strong, upstanding, useful, businesslike citizen. Every Scout subscribes to and does his level best to live by the Scout law: "A Scout is Trustworthy, Loyal, Helpful, Friendly, Courteous, Kind, Obedient, Thrifty, Brave, Clean and Reverent."

20,000 Chicago Boy Scouts live by this code—20,000 boys being prepared to become the first type of American business and professional men. Your investment now keeps the Scouting program working among these boys, and helps to extend its benefits to many boys who need and want Scouting.

Send your subscription to Walter A. Strong, Chairman
Executive Committee, Boy Scouts of America, 37 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago. Make out checks to Boy Scouts of America.

Make your investment in Scouting as generous as you possibly can. Even a quarter or a dollar will help the work—if you feel that is all you can subscribe.

WISCONSIN LOSES TO NOTRE DAME, 21-14

DODGE PLANS TO BEAT PELTZER;
THEN QUIT TRACKSays Doctor Elbowed
Him in N. Y.

Dr. Otto Peltzer, an athletic ambassador of good will from Germany, yesterday spent the first of a four days' sojourn here in his own quiet, unassuming manner. But while the lean, blonde doctor went about his own business, the accelerators of public interest were working overtime.

By nightfall, and with three days yet to go, they had accomplished the following:

1. Ray Dodge, Peltzer's most formidable opponent in a 1,000 meter foot race to be held at the I. A. C. games at the riding club Friday, announces that this will positively be his last appearance in any track meet.

2. Dodge, in a formal statement, charged Peltzer with elbowing him in their meeting in New York last week, which forced Dodge to lose by a narrow margin.

3. Upon discovering that Peltzer had arrived some five hours ahead of schedule to evade a reception committee, the committee, to the accompaniment of much hubbub, raced through Chicago in vain pursuit of the doctor.

Johnny Behr, athletic coach of the I. A. C., advised track fans to take Dodge's retirement announcement with grains of salt. This is not the first time that Dodge has "retired," Behr said.

Dodge's Retirement a Surprise.
Dodge has been one of the middle west's best distance men for several years and has been especially outstanding on the board tracks. He defeated Lloyd Hahn for the national 1,000 yards championship in 1926 and set a new record in so doing. He was a member of the last Olympic team and was looked upon as a strong contender for the team this year.

Dodge's announcement that he would retire at midnight Friday created quite a furor. Press of business was the reason he gave, and he added defiantly, "I intend to go out in a blaze of glory."

"I did Peltzer until the last turn in the race at the Millrose games last week," Dodge said. "Then he elbowed me while trying to pass me and pushed me completely off the board track onto the tie infield."

Loses Ten Yards.
"My spikes, not being made to dig into hard tile, slipped. Sparks flew in every direction. I lost about ten yards. This I was able to make up in part, but not enough to beat the doctor to the tape."

He wound up his oration with, "I am in the best shape of my career, and anybody who gets close enough to elbow me Friday night will find a tough job on his hands."

The doctor spent the day in quiet seclusion. Arriving early in the morning from Syracuse, N. Y., he was hurried to the Illinois Athletic club, and then rushed on to Patten gymnasium, where he worked out on the cinder path.

DAVIES WHIPS
KELLY IN BOUT
ON WEST SIDE

Wee Willie Davies, the flyweight champion of Pennsylvania, easily defeated Billy Kelly of Scranton, Pa., in the windup of the boxing show at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium last night.

The clever work of Davies, who won seven of the ten rounds, impressed the 1,000 who paid a gate of about $2,600. Jack McCarthy of the west side and Young Saylor of Pittsburgh went six rounds to a draw in the semi-windup. It was a fast fight all the way. They met at 150 pounds.

Pete White, colored 140 pounder, was given the six round decision over Lou Freedman of the west side in the opening fight. Tufty Griffiths, the Sioux City, Ia., middleweight, won the verdict over Babe De Coney of Chicago in the second opening. Joe Thomas, local 130 pounder, won all the way over Jack Kelly of Gary, Ind., in this preliminary. Kelly was substituted for Ted Henry, who was injured by the boxing commission because of an injured ankle. Paddy Walter of Logan Square went six rounds to a draw in the other fight on the card. They met at 125 pounds. Al Bloom and Harry Carroll were the judges and Mike Levy and Joe Chynowski were the referees.

HELEN WILLS TO SAIL FOR EUROPE
EARLY IN SPRING

Berkeley, Cal., Feb. 7.—Helen Wills today made known her plans for further conquests in the tennis world. She announced that she would forego a trip to Hawaii to appear in the Honolulu championships and instead depart early this spring for Europe.

Miss Wills said she would leave here in March so as to have at least two weeks' practice in Europe before she plays in team matches which the United States Lawn Tennis association is arranging in Holland, Germany, and France.

She also will play in the Wightman cup matches for the American team, and she will enter the Wimbledon championships.

THE GUMPS—FOR THAT TIRED FEELING

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

BY DON MAXWELL.

Almost coincident with Tex Rickard's announcement that Jack Dempsey can't see another attempt to win back the heavyweight championship comes a surge of talk about Pauline Tiscandra. Promoters have learned to like the favor of internationalism in their festive festivals and if Señor Upside-down—pronounced by Walter Eckersall—can be ballyhooed sufficiently a fine box office showing might result.

The Spaniard is engaged to fight George Godfrey in Los Angeles on the 23d of this month. If he wins, beware! You'll hear more about the señor than he knows about himself.

And in anticipation of the prominence in which Paulino may soon find himself, I'm tempted to quote excerpts from a dispatch just received from John Cornyn, Tex Tribune's able correspondent in Mexico City, concerning Paulino's recent knockout of Romeo Rojas. Mr. Cornyn says:

"Press services with world interests to look after caution their correspondents against coloring their stories. The services fear offense to one or another class. And that accounts, I think, for absence from reports of the prevalent opinion here that the Uscudun-Rojas fight was fixed."

"It is my belief that Señor Rojas got tired in the third round."

"You must remember that fight conditions in Mexico have a long way to go before they come near to equaling those in the United States. The services fear offense to one or another class. And that accounts, I think, for absence from reports of the prevalent opinion here that the Uscudun-Rojas fight was fixed."

"The spirit of fair play is only beginning to be developed. Therefore, the impresario of a fight feels that he must respect the insularism of his audience."

Uscudun was brought to Mexico City as a national hero. Not only was he linked to the fans by his Spanish blood, but Mexico City has a large Basque population. Accepting Mr. Cornyn's view of the attitude of the sport fans, it is not difficult to believe that Señor Rojas grew weary in the third round.

At that rate Rojas ought to find employment on a preliminary card at any third class show. And it's slight wonder that he thought three rounds long enough to remain standing.

Joe McCarthy, interesting and successful leader of the Cubs, is accustomed to ludicrous reading matter in his mail. He admits a baseball manager must have a sense of humor. And he believes that he has it. But Joe was paralyzed several weeks ago when he read a letter from a young man down south.

"You probably haven't ever heard of me," the young man modestly wrote, "but down in this part of the country I'm recognized as about the best pitcher in the business. I've looked the majors over pretty thoroughly and decided that the Cubs offer a young pitcher the best opportunity to get ahead."

"I'll be in your club either before or after spring practice. Just say the word."

P. S. "Say the word soon and send a contract for $5,000 a year. I wouldn't come for less."

The name of the writer is suppressed. While McCarthy feels the Cubs can't afford to stretch the payroll at this time, he doesn't want to let John McGraw get his tentacles on such an interesting prospect.

News note last night:
The Illinois Athletic club has cut its athletic appropriation in half this year.

News notes this week:
Miss Ethel Lackie, the famous young swimmer, has severed connections with the Illinois Athletic club to swim under the colors of the Illinois Woman's Athletic club.

Ray Dodge, the famous middle distance runner, announces that owing to the press of business he will run his last race for the I. A. C. when he competes against Dr. Otto Peltzer at the riding club.

MEHLHORN'S 297
CAPTURES TEXAS
OPEN GOLF MEETHarry Cooper Loses Title
by Single Stroke.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 7.—"Wild Bill" Mehlhorn won the Texas open golf crown today with an aggregate score of 297 for the 72 hole event.

The Pittsburgh professional lived up to his nickname in taking the laurels from a field of stars after a closing 36 hole drive in which he shot one brilliant round of 68 for 18 holes and climaxed it with an erratic 79 that barely enabled him to finish one stroke ahead of "Lightning" Harry Cooper.

Third place was won by Bobby Cruickshank, Purchase, N. Y., who had a 300 for the 72 hole event.

$1,500 Is First Prize.
Mehlhorn's total of 147 today slightly bettered his showing in the first thirty-six holes of the tournament, in which he scored 159. His score of 297 is the highest ever to win the Texas open.

With the victory, Mehlhorn acquired a purse of $1,500. Harry Cooper won $800, and Bobby Cruickshank's third money was $500.

"Wild Bill" shot good and bad golf. He established a new course record of 21 in the first nine of the morning, and his 68 equaled the course record for eighteen holes. In the afternoon he slipped badly, but pulled himself together on the final nine to post the 69.

The latter started the last round three strokes behind Mehlhorn and had a wonderful opportunity to win, but was unable to shoot better than a 77.

Cruickshank, in the meantime, collected a 75 in his last round. A mistake on the score almost gave Bobby the lead, but the little Scotman returned to the statistician and pointed out the mistake. As it turned out, it made no difference in his final standing.

Lally Falls Behind.
Tom Lally, who carried the hopes of Texas for a native son victory when he headed the field yesterday after the first 36 holes of play, had rough going and took 36 to finish in a tie with Billy Burke of Port Chester, N. Y.

Tommy Armour of Washington, national open champion, was the only other player who could have caught Mehlhorn on the last round. He could have tied by paring the course, and he made a good start in this direction but fell down on the last three holes and finished in a tie for fifth and sixth with a total of 304. Leading scores:

Bill Mehlhorn, Pittsburgh, 297.
Harry Cooper, Buffalo, N. Y., 298.
Bobby Cruickshank, Purchase, N. Y., 300.
MacDonald Smith, Great Neck, L. I., 302.

W. E. Kruyer, Toledo, O., 305.
Billy Burke, Port Chester, N. Y., 306.
Tom Lally, San Antonio, 306.
Al Espinoza, Chicago, 307.
Henry Grier, Stratford, Conn., 307.
Benny Golden, Patterson, N. J., 308.
Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo., 308.
Anthony Mason, Elmer, N. Y., 313.

New York, Feb. 7.—(Special.)—The international racquets series by winning two of the three singles matches today. The teams split even in two doubles matches on Sunday.

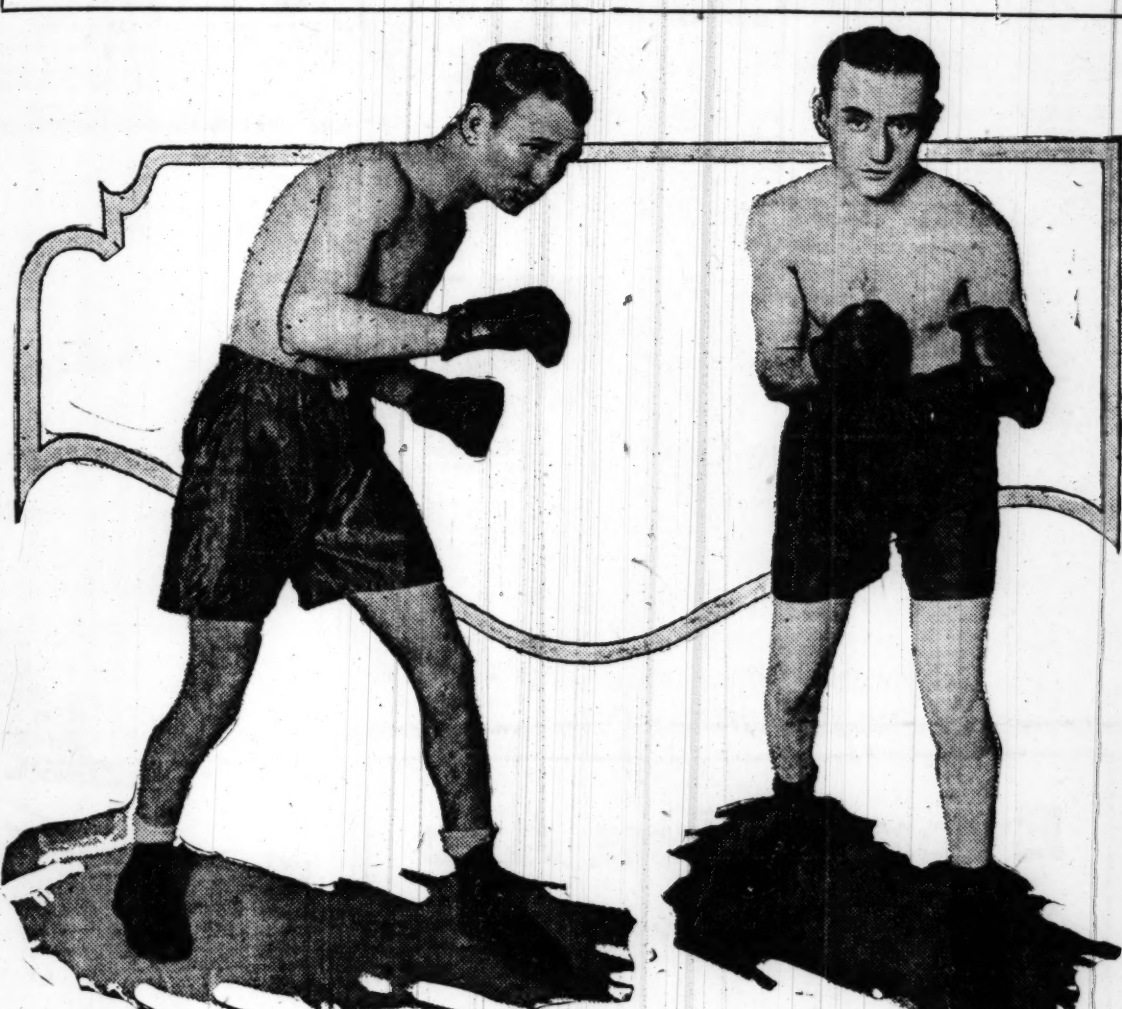

With the teams deadlocked at two all, Clarence C. Pell, the American champion, decided the issue by defeating the British ace, J. C. F. Simpson, 15-8, 15-12, 15-6.

The first football meeting of the Cornhuskers and the Cadets for the game is to be announced within a few days, athletic officials at both West Point and Lincoln admitted.

Chicago Tribune Press service representatives tonight.

It will be the first football meeting of the Cornhuskers and the Cadets, and according to the best information available tonight, the agreement will call for only the one meeting. The Navy-Princeton contract, recently signed for the same date, also was on a one year basis.

POLICE QUELL
STUDENT BOXERS
AT CAGE GAMESPrep Fans Quieted by School Officials.

Feeling among the central section high schools competing in athletics with Wendell Phillips students (colored) caused a disturbance yesterday at basketball games between Hyde Park and Phillips at Hyde Park gymnasium. After police led by Sgt. Smale of the Woodlawn station had restored order, interrupted games were completed.

Players Start Trouble.
Disension started in the lightweight contest when Phillips, Phillips star, who is a fast aggressive player, and Dalton of Hyde Park squared off. Immediately students rushed on the floor, but interference by school officials and the police prevented a fight.

Further evidence of antagonism towards Phillips developed at the Englewood gym, where Englewood and Lindblom teams played. Phillips heaves, had they won yesterday (they tied with Hyde Park, 15 to 15), would have gone into a tie with the loser of the Englewood-Lindblom game and been a contender for the title.

Let Them Remain.
With the score tied 25 to 25 at the end of the regulation time, neither Lindblom or Englewood attempted to score and the tie remained.

Ben Mosby, Phillips faculty member of the board of control, declared neither he nor the school have an objection to Lindblom and Englewood playing what was an apparent intentional tie.

Hyde Park lights defeated Phillips, 13 to 11, and Lindblom lights won from Englewood, 17 to 16. Linneups:
HYDE PARK (13): Phillips (11), Custer (1), Hall (1), Hall (1), Hall (1), Hall (1), Hall (1), Hall (1), Hall (1), Hall (1), Hall (1), Hall (1), Hall (1).

ROOSEVELT WINS TITLE.
Roosevelt lights captured the north section title by winning from Waller, 23 to 22, at Roosevelt. It was the ninth victory in ten games for Coach Chapin, who has won the title for Roosevelt in the last three years.

LANE BEATS LAKE VIEW.
Lane clinched the heavyweight title of the north section when it handed the second place Lake View five a 19 to 14 trouncing at Lane. Lake View lights won, 15 to 10. Heavyweight lineup:
LAKE VIEW (14): Lane (14), Lane (14), Lane (14), Lane (14), Lane (14), Lane (14), Lane (14), Lane (14), Lane (14), Lane (14), Lane (14), Lane (14), Lane (14).
WHEATON TAKES FAIR.
Wheaton swamped Glenbard in two games at Wheaton, taking the heavyweight contest, 33 to 23, and the lightweight fray, 36 to 10. Olson accounted for 42 of the Wheaton heavier points. Heavyweight lineup:
WHEATON (33): Wheaton (33), Wheaton (33), Wheaton (33), Wheaton (33), Wheaton (33), Wheaton (33), Wheaton (33), Wheaton (33), Wheaton (33), Wheaton (33), Wheaton (33), Wheaton (33), Wheaton (33).

SEN'S LIGHTS QUALIFY.
Senn lights finished in second place by taking their final north section game from Schurz, 22 to 14, at Schurz. Schurz won the heavy game, 15 to 13, and landed third in the heavyweight race. Thornton of Senn's lights scored 12 points to stretch his total for ten league games to 108 points.

ARRANGE SCHEDULE TODAY.
Sentinial games for the City High School basketball league will be drawn up this afternoon in the offices of E. C. Delaporte, director of physical education. Games are expected to be arranged for the afternoons, as principals are opposed to evening contests at 8 o'clock.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 7.—(Special.)—Holding Wisconsin without a field goal for the first 25 minutes of play, Notre Dame tonight won a rough game, 21-14. Dr. Walter E. Meanwell made use of Tenhopen and Miller, recently declared eligible, in an effort to find somebody who could hit the hoop, but a total of two baskets was the best the Badgers could offer.

Notre Dame jumped into a 6 to 1 lead on goals by Crowe and Smith in the first ten minutes, and increased the advantage to 14 to 5 at half time. Crowe and Jachym, shifty Irish forwards, each eluded the Wisconsin guards for a pair of baskets during this period and Crowe also dropped in three free throws.

Badgers Check Fire's Attack.
Due to the brilliant guarding of Miller and Andrews, the Badgers held Notre Dame to a single point for 15 minutes of the second period. Several free tosses and baskets by Miller and Foster brought Wisconsin to within three points of the South Bend team with five minutes to go, 16-13.

Coach Keegan sent McCarthy for Crowe and the substitute crept in close for two field goals to clinch victory for Notre Dame.

Two Irish Red Out.
Guarding of both teams was close and the officials let the battling go merrily on, although Donovan and Jachym finally went out on personals. The play of Smith and Crowe featured for Notre Dame, while the guarding and floor play of Miller was the bright spot in Wisconsin's exhibition. Lineup:

NOTRE DAME (21): Wisconsin (14), Crowe (1), Jachym (1), Jachym (1), Jachym (1), Jachym (1), Jachym (1), Jachym (1), Jachym (1), Jachym (1), Jachym (1), Jachym (1), Jachym (1).

Boxing Bout

At the weekly meeting of the boxing commission yesterday Dave Barry, referee, who handled the Dempsey-Tunney bout, Eddie Anderson, and Dave Adelman, boxers, were suspended indefinitely for connection with a series of unsanctioned bouts at the Congressional hotel last Thursday.

The boxing commission recently announced its intention of warning unsanctioned amateur and pro bouts. Ruddy Frolik was suspended indefinitely for using an assumed name, and Tommy "Kid" Leiber was barred for six months for violation of contract. Mack Handerson and Norman Taylor, who were suspended for a similar violation, were reinstated to good standing.

The ten round bout between Sunny Manded and Jackie Manded to be promoted by Joe Coffey at the Coliseum on Feb. 23 was approved by the commission.

Two world's swimming records will be endangered tomorrow night when special invitations to the Lake Shore Athletic club in conjunction with the Central A. A. U. women's championship meet.

Johnny Weissmuller, holder of more world's records than all other swimmers combined, will attempt to better his own mark of fifty-one seconds in the hundred yard freestyle.

Walter Lauffer, Ralph Breyer and Charley Levard of the C. A. A. and Al Schwartz and Don Peterson of Northwestern will compete against him.

Walter Lauffer of the Lake Shore club will try to break the world's record of 150 yard backstroke mark. The meet will be the first held in the new Lake Shore club.

Hawthorne Club to Stage

MOON MULLINS—KAYO DECIDES TO KEEP THE DOCTOR

In the Wake of the News

ONLY A DREAM. HUGHIE JENNINGS died? I don't believe it. It was just yesterday that I saw him out there back of the third base pulling up grass with those nervous hands, the light of battle in his eyes and the world famous "E-yah" on his lips.

Did I see him or was it just a dream? Why, there's Ty Cobb going from first to third on a bunt. Boy, did you see him slide into that bag, spikes flashing in the sunlight? And there's Wahoo Sam Crawford slouching up to the plate.

Big Ed Walsh is pitching carefully now. Zowie! Wahoo Sam got hold of one. See it go! Who's that after it? Jones. Watch him travel. He's got it. Ye gods, what a catch that was! Listen to the crowd. Look at Nick Altrock. There'll be a pitcher's battle here today the way Walsh and Wild Bill Donovan are going.

Yes, it was just a dream. For there's the paper and there's Hughie's picture. Passed! Gone to join Matty and Wild Bill and the other immortals of the diamond. Another veteran waved to the clubhouse by the Great Umpire from whose decision there is no appeal.

Hawks Chase Puck Tonight with Pirates

Manager Odie Cleghorn and his fast sailing Pirates will battle the Black Hawks tonight at the Coliseum. Cleghorn, who not so long ago was one of the outstanding stars of hockey, in a desperate effort to catch the slipping Detroit Cougars has donned a uniform and is taking his place in the Pirates' forward line.

Manager Hugh Lehman of the Black Hawks was elated at his team's showing in New York. The 6 to 0 victory was particularly pleasing because the Americans had their two scoring aces, Billy Burch and Lionel Conacher, in the lineup. That victory showed the benefit derived from a week's practice which the Hawks indulged in on the ice of the Hamilton, Ontario rink prior to the New York game. Lack of ice in Chicago's park ponds this year kept the new players from badly needed practice. Lineup:

BLACK HAWKS: Goal—Worner; Defense—McCahey, Burke, Keats; Center—Mills; Right Wing—Dunn; Left Wing—McCurry.

Agitation has been started in the National Hockey league to have legislation passed compelling players to wear some kind of a protecting fiber helmet. Maj. McLaughlin and Business Manager Stanley of the Hawks were pioneers in this movement which is now asserting itself because of serious head injuries suffered recently by hockey players.

Jackson Beats Allan Hall, 50-33, in Billiard League

New York, Feb. 7.—Allan Hall, leader in the American league three cushion billiard tournament, fell back to only a half game advantage over Willie Hoppe tonight by losing to Clarence Jackson, 50 to 33. The match required 55 innings. Each had a high run of four.

Alfred de Oro defeated Angie Kleckhefer, 50 to 45, in 59 innings in another league game.

Illinois Wesleyan Wins Seventh Straight Victory

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 7.—Illinois Wesleyan notched its seventh straight basketball triumph tonight when they defeated State Normal with the overwhelming score of 53 to 11. Capt. Lindquist and Baker led in the scoring for the Methodists.

Bruins Believe Veterans Will Beat Centrals

The strongest team that has represented Chicago in pro basketball will take the floor for the Bruins tonight at the Broadway armory in the opening of a two game series with the Rochester Centrals.

The addition of Tully Voss, all around athlete, is the reason Chicago should be able to match the best Rochester has to offer. He will appear at center and his height and weight, coupled with his basket shooting ability, is expected to make him one of the most valuable men on the local team.

Chicago now has a veteran professional five on the floor, with the exception of Whitey Wickhorst, and he has shown such improvement that he rates now with the star forwards in the league. Voss, Sullivan, Beckman and Russell are experienced men who have been through many strenuous basketball campaigns in the pro league.

Despite the addition of Voss the Bruins will have to be at their best to down Rochester. This five, after winning nine out of its first ten games, slumped for a time, but is back again in a winning stride. With Barry and Grody in the lineup they offer two players who are dangerous from any part of the floor.

Two preliminary games will precede the pro battle, which starts at 8:15. At 7:30 the May & Malone girls and the St. James Lutherans will meet.

OTTAWA BATTLES N. Y. RANGERS TO SCORELESS TIE

New York, Feb. 7.—The world's champion Ottawa Senators and the New York Rangers, American group leaders, battled 70 minutes to a scoreless tie in a National Hockey league game here tonight. The game was featured by the spectacular performances of Alex Connell and Lorne Chabot, goal keepers. The game was fast and cleanly played, each team drawing but one penalty.

BRUINS BEAT DETROIT. Boston, Mass., Feb. 7.—The Boston Bruins came out of their playing slump with a vengeance tonight to defeat the Detroit Cougars, 4 to 2, in a fast and rugged National Hockey league contest. The Bruins piled up two goals in the first period and added ## two more in the second. Detroit scored once in the second and again with less than three minutes to go.

MAROONS, AMERICANS TIE. MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 7.—The Montreal Maroons and the New York Americans battled to a three-goal draw in their National Hockey league game here tonight. The Americans, outplaying the locals in the early stages, had a 2 to 0 lead at the end of the second period, but the Maroons pounded through a defense momentarily good for three goals in the opening four minutes of the third period.

CANADIENS WIN, 2 TO 1. TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 7.—Before a crowd of 8,000 in Arena Gardens here tonight, the Montreal Canadiens turned back the Toronto Leafs by 2 goals to 1 in a National Hockey league tilt. The Leafs presented stronger resistance than a month ago.

"Luckies never cut my wind" says Billy Burch, Captain of New York Americans' Hockey Team

"Hockey is pretty strenuous—it takes all you've got to keep on top of the old puck. I can't afford to take any chances with my physical condition. That's why I stick to Luckies. In addition to the pleasure I get from their fine flavor, they have never cut my wind to any noticeable degree. Finally, I never suffer with sudden coughing which might be very dangerous for me when there's a scramble on the ice."

Billy Burch

"The Cream of the Tobacco Crop"

for Lucky Strikes says Tobacco Buyer

"No article can be better than its base. To produce a fine product, you must begin with fine materials. The finest of the Tobacco crop, 'The Cream of the Crop' goes into LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes. I know, because I buy the Tobacco for this brand with this ideal before me."

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely.

To do this just get about four ounces of plain ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

A marked let-up in supplies caused a reaction of the hog market yesterday, and fully 10¢ of recent losses were recovered. Extremes top and general average prices advanced 15¢ at $8.35 and $8.10, respectively, lightweights showing most gain and closing on par with last Saturday. The two day total at eleven points was only equal to Monday and Tuesday of last week, despite the record supply handled initial day of this week. Small packers, yard traders, and shippers were active buyers, while larger houses held back till late in the day. Cattle supplies fell below expectations yesterday giving sellers the upper hand. Strength appeared soon after the start, although no marked upturn was cited. Buyers proceeded cautiously in an effort to check any sharp advances. Gains of 1¢ to 2¢ were cited in some instances. Choice 1,474 lb steers reached $17.65. Good 1,372 lb lb cattle brought $17.00. Butcher stock met fairly

COTTON MARKETS FIRMER

Continued dry weather in western Texas and better cables than due combined with trade buying and short covering lifted cotton prices early, and at the top May showed a gain of 70 points above the recent low. Profit taking developed later, and the finish was on a reaction from the top, especially on the deferred deliveries, with the close here unchanged to 15 points higher. Outside markets were up 1 to 15 points. Some improvement in the mill demand for staple cotton was reported. Numerous foreign orders are being put into Texas to investigate the pink boll worm, and reports indicate that it is more serious than thought. Spot outside at New Orleans closed 10 points higher at 17.50, with New York 10 points higher at 18.00. Houston was 17.50. Prices follow:

NO COMPANIES REPORT 1927 AS THEIR BEST YEAR

BY O. A. MATHER.

Although last year was a period of keen competition in the automobile industry, two companies reported yesterday that 1927 was the most profitable year in their histories.

Net profits of the Auburn Automobile company for the fiscal year ended Nov. 30 were $1,278,522, equivalent to $1.09 a share on the average of 97,647 shares of common stock outstanding at the end of the year. Net profits for the previous year were $943,262, or $1.11 a share on 84,888 shares. The company issued 35,234 additional shares last September in purchasing controlling interests in the Lycoming Manufacturing Company, DuPont, Inc., the Lincolnton Body Company and the 127,609 shares of common stock.

Optimistic Regarding 1928.

"The showing of the new models for 1928, together with the cumulative effect of nearly $1,000,000 invested in advertising last year, have resulted in sharply increased retail sales at the Auburn mobile shows and an unprecedented volume of sales is anticipated during the coming year," President E. L. Cord says in his annual report. "The company enters 1928 with a dealer organization practically double the man power and purchasing power of that which it entered 1927."

Net profits of the Borg & Beck company last year also set a record at $1,450,355, equivalent to $1.03 a share on the 1,410,000 shares of common stock outstanding at the end of 1927. Net profits for 1926 were $907,222, or $1.26 a share. The company paid a 20 cent stock dividend last month, increasing the outstanding stock to 1,500,000 shares.

Another industrial concern to offset competition with the steel industry is the United States Steel corporation, which last year did the largest business in its history. Net profits for 1927 were $2,340,000, equivalent after preferred dividends to $6.7 a share on the common stock, compared with $2,324,828, or $6.02 a share, in 1926.

Sharp expansion in the steel industry last year is shown in data made public by the American Iron and Steel Institute. Steel ingots production not only was larger than either in December or January last year, but it was exceeded by only three months of 1927—March, April, and May.

Ingot production last month was 3,950,000 tons, compared with 3,100,000 tons in January, 1927. The mills operated at 87.7 per cent of capacity.

U. S. Steel Report Friday.

The United States Steel corporation will issue its report on unfilled orders of Jan. 31 on Friday. Upward revisions are being made and current estimates call for an increase between 325,000 and 400,000 tons over unfilled orders of Dec. 31, which in turn showed a gain of 18,737 tons over Nov. 30. New orders last month are believed to have exceeded shipments by about 2,000 tons. Miscellaneous freight, however, was 3,673 cars above a year ago.

While some pickup in general business is going on, there is less activity than a year ago, judging by the railroad movement of commodities. Loadings of revenue freight for the week ended Jan. 28 totaled 902,822 cars, an increase of 18,737 over the preceding week but a decline of 41,047 from a year ago. Miscellaneous freight, however, was 3,673 cars above a year ago.

WORLD'S GREATEST

NEWSPAPER

"8 years of experiment - now we put all our Chicago newspaper advertising in the Tribune . . . . ."

THOMAS J. WEBB
Coffee Company

"SINCE using no Chicago newspaper but The Tribune," says Thomas J. Webb, president of the Thomas J. Webb Coffee Company, "its efficiency as an advertising medium for reaching housewives has been clearly demonstrated. It is unquestionably first in Chicago. We consider its continued use a necessary insurance for maintaining the prestige of our house and the increasing demand for our product.

"The Tribune Book of Facts has been my bible. We have based our entire merchandising campaign on its recommendations . . . Tribune coverage in Chicago and the forty mile radius is greater than that of any other Chicago newspaper . . .

"Since using The Tribune exclusively we have secured 85% distribution in the Chicago market. The Tribune's efficiency as an advertising medium for reaching housewives has been clearly demonstrated. It is unquestionably first in Chicago."

Thomas J. Webb

75 per cent of our total sales are in this territory.

"Since we began using The Tribune exclusively we have secured 85 per cent distribution in the Chicago market. I believe this sets a precedent in coffee merchandising. I believe, too, that we have the largest selling brand of coffee in Chicago. It is my aim to make my house, in coffee, like The Tribune in influence: supreme in Chicago."

During 1927 The Tribune gained more local grocery lineage than all other Chicago newspapers combined. And of the 64 national food advertisers, using 5,000 or more lines in Chicago newspapers in 1927, 35 spent more of their advertising appropriation in The Tribune than in any other Chicago newspaper. This is more than twice the number of advertisers who spent more in the second Chicago newspaper and more than four times as many as in the third paper. The Daily Tribune alone gained 190% more local grocery lineage than the two leading evening newspapers combined.

Grocery products advertisers, local and national combined, spent more in The Tribune in 1927 than in any other Chicago newspaper.

A Tribune man will be glad to present the facts in greater detail.

Three Chicago Belles Lend Brightness to Prom Week at Yale

BY THALIA

This is prom week at New Haven. Studies have been cast aside, and the maidens from all over the country are invading the ivy covered buildings, where the spirit of bachelordom reigns supreme through all the year, except for the three days of festivities which end today. Two Chicago damsels are present at the youthful festival as guests of members of the prom committee. Miss Janice McNear, the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. McNear, is attending the sister activities with Charles H. Milbank of Freeport, Long Island, and Miss Jean MacLeish, the Bruce MacLeish's daughter, who is a student at Wellesley, is being escorted to the various entertainments, as well as the big ball by Scott Jonathan Dow Jr., also of Chicago, who is a member of St. Anthony. The junior promenade itself took place on Monday evening at Wesley hall from 10:30 o'clock in the evening, until 4 yesterday morning. The prom was followed by "closed" parties at each of the Sheffield fraternity houses. This year's prom was distinguished by a record number of "stage" and special arrangements were made for "cutting in." Miss Patricia O'Connell, the daughter of Mr. Harold N. Scott of 325 Fullerton parkway, is another Chicago belle, a Wellesley student, who is down from Northampton to be at the parties of the Colony club.

Tomorrow the wedding of Edna Shepard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Shepard, formerly of 2916 Pine Grove avenue, and James Braxton Deane of Grand Rapids, Mich., is to take place quietly in Detroit, Mich., where the Shepards have made their residence for the last half year. Miss Shepard, who took her maiden name after her divorce from Charles E. Deane Jr., was graduated from the Chicago Latin school and made her debut several years ago at a reception given by the Rev. and Mrs. Charles H. Anderson for her and for her daughters, Miss Katherine Anderson, who was married last Saturday to Dr. Lester Frankenthal III, and Miss Nancy Anderson. Mr. Deane is a University of Michigan man and a member of Sigma Phi fraternity.

Chaucer B. Blair, president of the Italy-America society, yesterday disclosed tentative plans of that organization to hold a business meeting and banquet sometime this month. The occasion may be the return of Leopoldo Piumi, former Italian consul general to Chicago recently promoted to the post of minister.

What with social registers distinguishing themselves right and left in artistic and creative lines, it is increasingly difficult for a society editor to refrain from recording the news preservers of the cultural recorders. On the future musical program is the piano recital of Andreina Maresca, former Italian consul general to Chicago, which will be the first professional appearance of Mrs. Barton since her marriage last summer in Florence to the son of Mrs. Enos Barton. An Helen Walter Szukalska is to have an exhibit of water colors and drawings at the Arts club on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Szukalska is the daughter of the late Dr. Samuel J. Walker and a sister of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Walker of Lake Forest. She won't be here for the tea which opens her show as well as a display of modern American paintings loaned to the Arts club by the Daniel Guggenheim Foundation, one of the sculptures of Allan Clark, as she is in Pasadena, Cal., gradually recuperating from a lengthy illness. She is to join her husband, Stanislas Szukalska, the Polish sculptor, abroad in April.

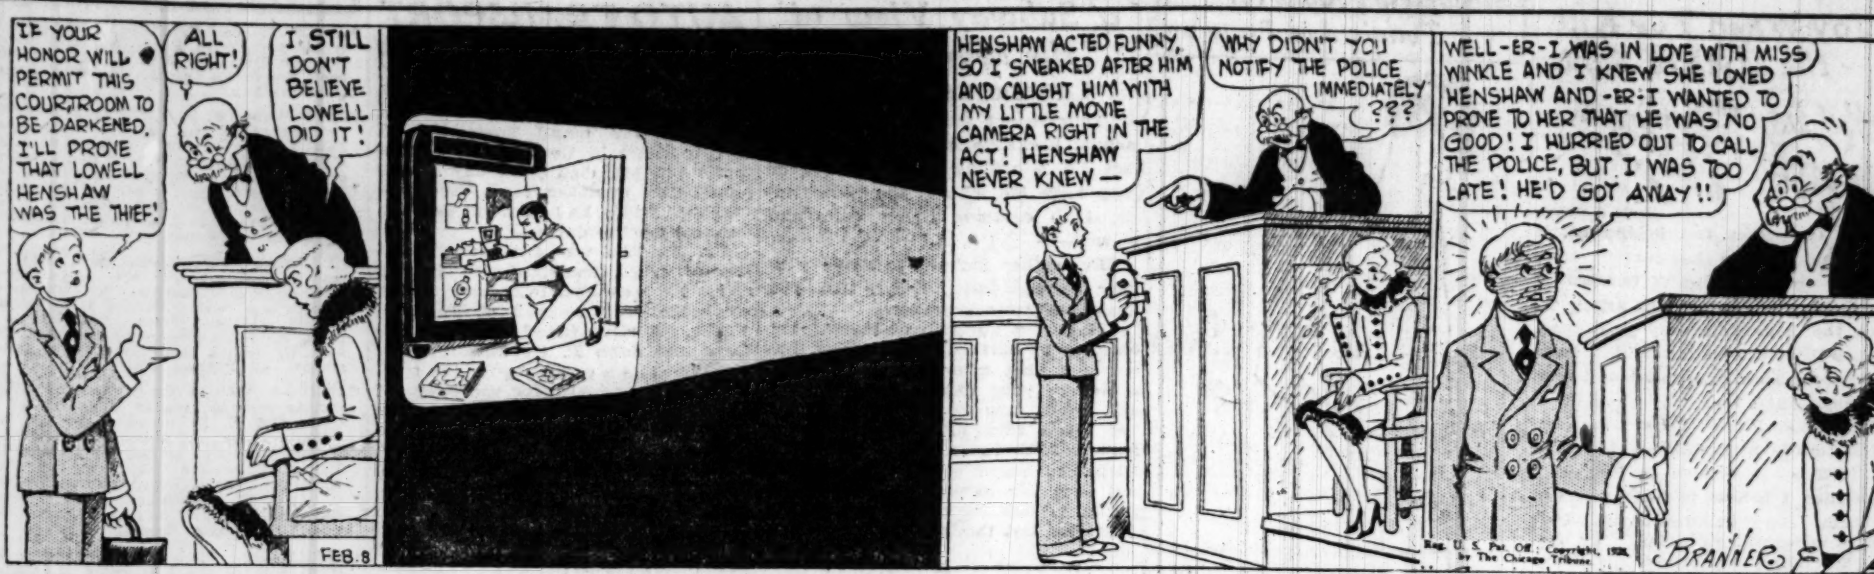

The engagement is announced of Miss Elizabeth Anne Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Andrews of 1209 Astor street, formerly of Duluth, Minn., to John Griffith Madden of Kansas City, Mo. Miss Andrews is a Westover graduate and an engagement of importance in Duluth where the wedding is to be solemnized in June, is of interest here among the Duluth colony of Chicagoans and Miss Andrews' many acquaintances.

The Playwrights' theater program, set for tomorrow evening at twilight hour at the Palace theater, sounds interesting, and the criticism and discussion that Miss Alice Gerstenberg leads after the program will probably be stimulating to the aspiring authors. A piece called "Simon Dark's Desk," written by Frances Shaw (Mrs. Howard Van Doren Shaw), to John Griffith Madden of Kansas City, Mo. Miss Andrews is a Westover graduate and an engagement of importance in Duluth where the wedding is to be solemnized in June, is of interest here among the Duluth colony of Chicagoans and Miss Andrews' many acquaintances.

Challenge for Spring Style Favor Is Made by Bustle Silhouette

(Copyright 1928: By the New York Times.)

PARIS, Feb. 7.—The bustle silhouette is challenging the folded peacock tail gown for supremacy in the list of the Paris collections of spring and summer fashions. Each has the skirt fullness drawn to the back and each is made preferably of taffeta or moire, but otherwise they are dissimilar.

The bustle outline has a bias flounce narrow and flat at the front, but widening as it mounts fuller to the back of the waistline. The peacock folded-tail gown has a straight front with the circular fullness of a longer back emphasized by tiered flounces flat at the front and rippling longer at the back.

Premet drops draped belts into a point at the back and attaches the skirt flounces to the pointed piece. Molyneux advocated this tendency to back fullness and expresses it in sporty clothes by making the skirts pleated evenly all around. Doucet calmly adds an ensemble suit with an even hemline to these peacock-tailed frocks, letting a dropping hem show below the coat.

The craze for polka dots extends past the printed materials to satins and taffetas, which are dotted with beads and tulle embroidered chenille dots. Organdy or net ruchings in cavalier cuffs and collars is popular at Premet's.

Violet or wood shades are experimented with lightly by each designer. Red continues an insistent note, either in trimming, as an entire ensemble or as a frock with a navy coat. Some evening gowns, forsaking the shaped necklines, are now cut off square at the top, making way for contrasting shoulder straps. Douillet and Drecoll go further, making a gown with no shoulders.

Capes were fitted on a shoulder motif in the Worth collection this evening, long capes instead of coats, for an ensemble, short capes instead of jackets for street suits, capes for evening and gowns for day.

Get finer flavor in the foods you bake—this way!

You want more than good looks—you want fine flavor in the foods you bake. The secret is in your flour—be sure you use the right kind. Flour made from the wrong type of wheat will often produce cakes or biscuits that are perfect in appearance but disappointing in taste. To be sure of finest flavor, insist on Pillsbury's Best Flour. It is made only from carefully selected, full-flavored wheat—it will give you that delicious, delicate, unmistakable flavor that marks your perfect baking—you can depend on that, always!

for better flavor, use this one fine flour for all your baking dined tonight as guests of the secretary of the navy and Mrs. Curtis D. Wilbur in their apartment at Stoneleigh court.

The British ambassador and Lady Isabella Howard were the guests for whom Mrs. McCormick-Goodhart had a distinguished company at dinner this evening in her country home, Langley park, in Riverdale, Md. Among the guests were the Countess Osoroy, whose mother-in-law, the marchioness of Ormonde, was a girl friend of the hostess as Miss Seager of Chicago.

Representative and Mrs. Harry Rowbottom of Indiana had a large company at dinner tonight in the Crystal room at the Willard. Representative and Mrs. A. J. Sabath of Chicago have taken a residential suite at Wardman Park hotel for the remainder of the season.

"Did you and Hal make up? I saw you playing with him this morning," said Jimmy's older sister to him.
"Aw, I was going to be mad at him, but I went through the alley this morning and he was settin' on his back porch eatin' cookies," said Jimmy with a forgiving air.

$3,000,000 INVESTED IN LEGS YEARLY
New York, N. Y.—To develop the symmetrical legs and twinkling toes that are the mark of a girl's stage aspirant, a night's high stepping being as hard on chignon history as a month of ordinary wear by the average girl.

In recent statements the producers report efforts to decrease stocking bills. They say they have discovered that if stockings are cleaned in Lux, they stay like new twice as long, give twice as many performances.

"I would use Lux if it cost $1.00 a box," Eddie Dowling, star and producer, remarked.

The makers of Lux say that the secret of the long wear of fabrics washed in Lux is the absolute purity of Lux, and its instant rich oils that make rubbing unnecessary.

Holds Modern Girl Confident, Unafraid

Defending the young people of today, the Rev. John MacBeath, English clergyman, in an address yesterday before the Moody Bible institute at the annual Founder's week conference, declared that too much blame is attached to modern youth by sentimentalists and reformers.

"I have no sympathy and only pity for the men and women who give thanks that when they were young there was no 'rising generation,'" he said. "Parents and teachers of that age must have been saved many a care and worry," he said. "The girl of today is the product of the age, more assured, more highly confident, and does not fear the world as did her mother."

While Dr. MacBeath thinks prohibition in the United States is a great advantage to the general condition of the country he was of the opinion that a gradual shutdown on alcoholic liquors would have been more effective than the sudden force of the stringent ban. The best minds in England are watching closely for reactions on both sides of the issue, he said.

Eyebrows Are Worn, These Days; Hair Line Arches Are Out

In spite of the fact that very thin eyebrows have been out for several seasons now, you are surprised to see them being worn by young women who seem to be up to the minute on other items of fashion.

We observe a certain golden blonde origin suspected, but not proved because of the clever peroxide application which is lovely enough of form and feature to catch her a movie contract were looks all that caught 'em. Were it not for the delicacy of her features we fear those skinned-out eyebrows would have made her hard as nails. But she is too exquisitely molded to suffer from one liability only. Yet we wonder every time we see her why she does not let her brows grow a bit heavier. Then she would be perfection. Perhaps she doesn't want to be perfection and that's the reason she prunes her eyebrows to a fine line. If it is, the girl is unique. I never met another.

Eliminate the hairs which straggle down toward the lid or across the bridge of the nose, or those that run wild over brow or temples, but let the brows be thick. There's beauty in a fine frame for the eye—beauty the eye catches only through its frame.

If the brows are blonde to the point of colorlessness, darken them, but remember that here, of all the branches of cosmetics, the work of the amateur is most readily detected—and deplored. To avoid touching the skin is a trick that calls for practice. A new line of hair, letting the heaviest (but not too heavy) dab of the cosmetic come directly over the eye and shade away to the outer edge and to the inner.

Some people like a paste for this purpose, others a liquid applied with a camel's hair brush. Whatever cosmetic you prefer, be sure to put it on only along the natural line of the brow, and, unless the hair is coal black, use a brown tone. A brown soft pencil may be used for brows that need only a slight accentuation of shadow.

Both eyebrows and eyelashes may be encouraged to grow more luxuriously by the application of vaseline at night.

It is an erroneous impression that vaseline is painful should some get in the eye.

If eyebrows are thinning it may be due to a general condition of malnutrition. These thin hairs on the lid and brow are as susceptible to the changes that come with a run-down body as the system as the hair on the head is.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

R. D. LONG DISTANCE GAZING should be practiced by every one using her eyes constantly. It rests the eyes. Go to the window and look out toward the horizon for a minute or two. This several times during the morning and several times during the afternoon.

C. A. R. YOU MAY HAVE BEEN brot with the fat skinned off, vegetable soup, bouillions, clear meat soups; but cream soups must be avoided if you wish to keep your weight down.

TRIBUTE COOK BOOK

By JANE EDDINGTON
Gingerbread.

The other day in picking up casually some lessons in elementary English, I ran across this: "How to Make Gingerbread," and this was the how: "Last night I made some soft molasses gingerbread, and it was very good. I took three cups of flour, two teaspoons of ginger, and one-half of a teaspoon of salt, and mixed them. Then I put in one cup of molasses, one-third of a cup of melted butter, two teaspoons of soda, one cup of sour milk, and one well beaten egg. I beat the batter until it was well mixed, then I put it in a shallow pan and baked it about three-quarters of an hour."

We consider these directions somewhat incomplete, but by making up fair recipes for it one can get an excellent gingerbread. We baked this quantity in a glass baking dish about 12x18 inches. The top of the dish is a little larger than that of the bottom, a little smaller. The gingerbread bulged up well, but had a rather tight top instead of the soft, moist sort of top we like best. Yet it was excellent in nature—cold, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were contended.

In the course of Dr. Caldwell's 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in using a formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in Dr. Caldwell's private practice. Now the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children, and the children are giving it to their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed.

Patterns by Clotilde

(Registered U. S. Patent Office.)

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

This stunning dress of lustrous soft brown crepe satin is embroidered in beige and brown angora wool, the latest idea from Paris. It simulates the two piece model with a skirt attached to the hip yoke, which creates a slight blousing to the bodice. The deep open front is completed with a vestee. Flat silk crepe, georgette crepe, and crellia are attractive materials for this development.

The pattern, 3244, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years, and 26, 32, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards of 40 inch material. Embroidery pattern 734 costs 15 cents extra.

Write your name and address plainly on dotted lines, giving number and size of such patterns as you want. Inclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred; wrap it carefully) for each number, and address your order to Clotilde Patterns, Chicago Tribune, 247 Park Avenue, New York City.

beat to beat it well first with an egg beater. Then the egg is beaten and we would prefer to beat the egg first, then the sour milk and then to beat them together. There are two teaspoons of soda allowed for this gingerbread where one and one-half would be perhaps more logical, since one level teaspoon of soda is allowed for a cup of molasses, and only one-half teaspoon for a cup of sour milk. However, there was no taste of soda when two teaspoons of it were used in this recipe.

Very few people would add the molasses to the flour, as this direction might be interpreted. We think it an excellent plan as well as an economy to mix it with the sour milk and beat them together. The molasses needs diluting to give the best effects.

Doctor Found Women and Children Sick More Often than Men

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's specialty. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were contended.

In the course of Dr. Caldwell's 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in using a formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your home—where many fine people are sure to need it quickly.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepared a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

You Needn't Destroy Joy When You Kill the Myth of Santa

With Christmas just behind us, it may seem like an inopportune time to bring up the subject of inculcating in children the Santa Claus myth. It is on the contrary a very good time, because the questions the children have asked are fresh in your mind, and your own misgivings, too.

Personally, I don't believe in foisting Santa Claus on children if they're not inclined to believe in him, any more than I believe in forcing fairies on them. Some children haven't that sort of imaginative craving. My own little boy has never believed in Santa Claus as a reality, nor in fairies. I have always told him from whom his presents came, because I thought the knowledge of people's loveliness was very important to him.

I am going to print a letter from one of my readers who has met the Santa Claus problem and solved it with such admirable directness. It may help about their veracity in regard to Santa Claus and yet who have to give him up, in preparing for another Christmas.

"Dear Mrs. Evans: I have been reading your articles on 'You and Your Children' regularly and enjoying them."

"But I think you are wrong in encouraging mothers to lead their children to believe in Santa Claus in Santa Claus and I want to tell you the plan we have worked out in our home. We have two children—a boy, 4, and a girl, 3—and we have always told them that we 'played' that there was a Santa Claus—that it is a wonderful sort of game which every one likes to play at Christmas time, which is really exactly what it is. To them, Santa Claus is on a par with the animals that talk and do other unnatural things in the fairy stories they love. And they revel in him, devour every picture and every story about him—we are living on a steady diet of 'The Night before Christmas' now."

"Yet they know exactly what Christmas is and that the presents come from those who love them. The boy saved his pennies and selected by himself a present for his father and one for little sister—and I wish you could see the joy it gives him to have a real part in Christmas."

"I know from personal observation that they are getting more real happiness than the children across the hall who believe a mysterious Santa is going to crawl through the keyhole or over the transom Christmas eve and bring them gifts."

Speaking of yellow reminds one of the prominence accorded the tint known as "leghorn" among coats for our southern resorts. Many people esteem this color more fashionable than the real yellow.

Silk coats are out in force among the resort clothes and it is to be expected that the coat of satin black crepe should follow the winter vogue of that type of frock. These coats are usually straight line affairs that cunningly utilize both surfaces.

Of course white is not arbitrary on the course and this same model would be charming if developed in some pastel tint bound with a darker tone of the chosen color. The fashionable yellow, for example, would be delightful bound in orange.

This Husband Has a Subway View of the Marriage Vow

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Your recent article about a man lacking backbone in view of the fact that he is willing to let the other chap have his wife if she is not inclined to continue living with him is well—"

"I'm rather inclined to agree with your correspondent, Doris, that you know not your Bernadette. It isn't a question of lacking the courage to battle for a woman, but the fact that after you have given a woman your name, home, dressed and taken care of her, in fact, met her on a fifty fifty basis, when she turns up to marry some one else, why not turn her loose? You're not losing anything. You just never had anything, but thought you did, that's all."

"Anyhow, Doris, I do not believe you know much about married life, particularly in this day of $13 houses, $75 apartments, and $400 fur coats. It's not all excitement about getting divorced in this day and year seems rather foolish in view of the fact that the female of the species is more or less like the subway—that is, if you miss one there will be another along in a minute. In fact, you might land a more comfortable seat in the next one. When conditions are like that you know they are, why the large howl about yellow streaks in the male who lets his wife walk out on him?"

Another thing, you cannot black your wife's eye, nowadays. The minute we husbands black some of our womankind's eyes it's 'Good morning, Judge.'"

"You're all right in the affairs of the heart, Doris, but stay off to Benedict, for none of us who had the courage to let ourselves in on the marriage contract is yellow. We may be a little soft in the head—in fact, most of us will agree with you that if we went into an ordinary business deal on the same basis as we did on the marriage contract, receivership would be in the not too distant future.—G. H. H."

Your indictment doesn't quash me, Mr. G. H. H. On the contrary, your letter supports my contention that the women aren't all to blame for the chaotic state of matrimony.
